HITLER MAY GAMBLE ON SWIFT STROKE

Attempt Knockout Blow At Great Britain Before U.S. Neutrality Law Effective

By RICHARD C. HOTTELET
British United Press. Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.

BERLIN, Oct. 31—Germany may intensify its war preparations in an attempt to strike an immediate knock-out blow at Great Britain before the revised American neutrality law can become effective, inspired Nazi sources intimated today.

The Senate's passage of the bill was the second blow to the Nazis during one day. The first was the encyclical in which Pope Pius XII spoke strongly against the Nazi-Communist type of dictatorship.

Authorized German quarters said that Allied radio reaction to the U. S. Senate vote showed clearly that the action favored the Allies.

"The Senate vote is only the first act in the play," authorized quarters said. "One never gives criticism of a play until after the last act—in this case the vote in the House of Representatives. It is too early even to tell whether the play will be comedy or tragedy."

Authorized quarters said that Germany found United States press reaction to the Senate vote "amusing but hardly in keeping with President Roosevelt's speeches."

DISPLEASURE SHOWN

Unofficially, the Nazis made no attempt to hide their displeasure at the prospect that the United States would soon be selling to the Allies arms which, though Germany could buy also, it could not get through the British blockade.

"This bill may cause us to hurry up," said one Nazi close to the foreign office, in advancing the idea that Hitler might order an immediate ruthless war against British, hoping that by

DEATH KEEPS R.A.F. SECRET FROM ENEMY

WITH THE ROYAL AIR FORCE SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, Oct. 31.—Death kept the secret of the location of one of the Royal Air Force aerodromes from German observers today when a British fighter sent an enemy reconnaissance machine hurtling to the earth behind the Maginot line.

Hit by hundreds of British bullets, the German machine crashed into the ground with its engine still roaring in full throttle. The plane plunged its crew of three into a nine-foot deep crater in the earth and its petrol tanks exploded with a deafening report.

WINNIE JUDD, MAD SLAYER, IS CAPTURED

Caught While Burglarizing Home On Grounds Of State Hospital

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 31—Winnie Ruth Judd, mad killer, half-starved and emotionally spent after six days of freedom from the Arizona state hospital, burglarized a home on the institution's grounds last night to obtain food and was caught before she could flee.

The trunk murderess, who killed her two best friends in 1931, apparently had been hiding in the vicinity of Phoenix since she slipped out of the hospital last Tuesday night, paid a 15-minute visit to the bedside of her ill father, and vanished into the darkness.

REPORTED HYSTERICAL

Dr. Louis J. Saxe, superintendent of the hospital, said Mrs. Judd was hysterical. A sedative was administered and she was put to bed, under guard.

Hospital attendants caught the insane murderess as she fled from the

FUR PRODUCERS URGING CO-OP MARKET PLAN

By GRANT DEXTER
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Oct. 31—Under the stress of the war, the fur producers of Canada are urging the Dominion Department of Agriculture to apply the Co-operative Marketing of Agricultural Products Act to their industry.

No decisions have yet been taken, except for the fox fur industry of Prince Edward Island, and the problem is now under study. In all probability, if any kind of unanimity can be obtained in the industry, the producers throughout the country will be given the benefit of the act.

Under this act a marketing board may be established which would fix an initial payment for different kinds of fur. The Dominion would guarantee this initial payment, thus making it possible for producers to get the money at once, and would supervise the work of the board. The furs would be sold and any sums of money obtained for them in excess of the initial payment would be distributed among the producers on the basis of so much per pelt.

While producers are agreed in desiring a board, the marketing interests may not want one. They are coming to Ottawa, probably tomorrow, and will get a hearing. From indications are, however, that the second board will be set up. The two boards, it is believed, can easily work in harmony.

VERACRUZ, Mexico, Oct. 31.—The captain and some crewmen of the German liner Columbus were reported missing today after a sudden storm lashed Veracruz harbor. The Columbus took refuge here when war began.

SOVIET RUSSIA DEMANDS PACT WITH FINLAND

Molotoff Accuses Britain, France Of Prosecuting War Against Nazis

MOSCOW, Oct. 31.—Russia is demanding a pact from Finland similar to agreements which have put three small Baltic states under Russian protection, Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff announced in a speech to the Soviet "parliament" tonight.

"We want a mutual aid pact approximately along the lines of those with other Baltic states," he said in a speech which accused Great Britain and France of prosecuting the war against Germany solely to protect their colonial empires.

Soviet pacts with three Baltic neighbors, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, gave her the right to station troops, warships and planes on their soil.

Molotoff said, "there can be no

CITY OF FLINT TAKES ON FOOD, WATER SUPPLIES

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 31. — The United States freighter, City of Flint, under control of a German prize crew, was reported in advices reaching here today to have taken on large supplies of fresh meat and water yesterday outside the Norwegian port of Tromso.

The vessel was said to be flying the German flag. As a prize ship, the City of Flint was unable to enter the harbor anchorage, but reports here said this difficulty was solved by moving the vessel at slow speed in Tromso Sound, while a motorship came alongside and made a transfer of supplies.

The City of Flint is en route from the Russian port of Murmansk to Germany.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—The United States government, it was learned at the state department today, is asking the British and German governments to avoid exposing the crew of the captured American freighter City of Flint to unnecessary danger.

Instructions to this effect have been sent to Ambassador Joseph Kennedy in London and Alexander Kirk, charge d'affaires, in Berlin.

FEW, IF ANY, CONCESSIONS GRANTED RUSS

Finns to Give Government Clear Hand in Case Of War

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

HELSINGFORS, Oct. 31.—On the eve of the departure of a Finnish delegation to Moscow with Finland's "final answer" to Soviet demands today, the Diet hurried bills to passage which will give the government a clear hand in case of war.

The Diet's action appeared to bear out predictions in diplomatic circles that Finland's answer to Russia granted few, if any, concessions.

GENERAL FEELING

A foreign office spokesman said Finland was proceeding on the basis that an agreement could be reached, but the general feeling in political quarters was that a stalemate would result from the current trip to Moscow.

Finland's reply to the Soviets will be submitted to President Kyosti Kallio for final approval before the delegation departs.

One of the Diet's bills would give the government broader powers to execute work decrees and handle private property for military purposes.

DEFENCE FUND GIFTS

Gifts to a new defence fund reached the equivalent of $1,000,000. The government announced it would offer about 2,000,000 pounds of coffee for sale outside rationing restrictions at increased prices. This

REPORT HITLER WILL COMMAND ON WEST FRONT

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The Yorkshire Post today published a report that Colonel-General Walter von Brauchitsch, commander-in-chief of the German army, would not be entrusted with command of the western front, but would step aside in favor of Adolf Hitler himself.

The fuehrer will be assisted, it was reported, by his general staff, headed by Colonel-General Wilhelm Keitel, as minister in the Nazi cabinet.

SOW POLICY IS EXTENDED MULLEN SAYS

Two Governments Split Freight Costs—Farmer Aided

Joint Dominion-provincial government assist distribution policy has been extended, Hon. D. B. Mullen, minister of agriculture, announced Tuesday. Until now, a farmer was able to obtain a sow of approved bacon type at cost, either in this city or Calgary. The Dominion then paid one-half freight charges to the nearest shipping point for the farmer.

Under the extension the provincial government will absorb the half freight charge heretofore paid by the farmer. Thus the two governments will split the cost on a 50-50 basis.

This policy, said Mr. Mullen is to insure gilts of the approved bacon type at lowest cost and made available to farmers at cost.

"The new policy will add further support to the national bacon hog program, whereby Canada is improving the foundation breeding stock and producing the type of bacon hogs required by the British market.

"Alberta is the second largest swine-producing province in Canada and leads all provinces in the percentage of pigs grading selects."

He said another feature was interesting to farmers in that if 20 or more gilts are bought by one group, a bacon type boar may be obtained free.

Chauvin Man Adjourned On Manslaughter

A further adjournment until Wednesday was ordered in the charge of manslaughter against Calvin Baker, Chauvin merchant, following the hearing of evidence in the preliminary hearing before Magistrate A. I. Miller, K.C., in police court Tuesday.

The charge arose out of the accident on the Cooking Lake highway, east of the city, October 17, in which a car driven by Baker upset. A passenger, Christian Holm, of Chauvin, was killed.

Highlight of the evidence produced Tuesday was a statement by Baker. He said he had had a few drinks of beer, but had not had enough to interfere with his ability to drive. He said the car swerved into the ditch and then, as he tried to pull out, "something went wrong."

Conditions in France Acutely Reminiscent Of First Great War

This is another in a series of despatches from the front, from the pen of Sir Philip Gibbs, famous British war correspondent, which are appearing exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin as a regular feature for Bulletin readers.—EDITOR.

WITH THE BRITISH FORCES IN FRANCE, Oct. 31.—The weather has turned sharply cold and our men have to stand up against a bitter wind which comes whistling through the cracks in the old barns where they are billeted, despite the fact that the sun has at last broken through.

To me, coming back to France and war conditions after that old war to end war, everything I see is acutely reminiscent of those winters in Flanders when that ghost army of the past was on the Somme and up by Ypres.

Yesterday the wind whistled around the roofs of the farm houses and barns around the airfield where I was waiting for one of our planes to start. The young pilot came in to warm himself at a small estaminet where he could get hot coffee. The room was foggy with the smoke of many cigarettes.

There was a group of young airmen with one or two French soldiers and behind the bar Madam told me at some length what had happened to her in the last war when her family had been behind the German lines. Somehow I felt in a dream. This little scene took me back twenty years or more when in such places I tried to get a little warmth after being frozen to the bone in the cold winds of Flanders.

SNOW PREVENTS FLIGHT

Presently the pilot went out, looked up at the sky and did not like the look of things. He was supposed to be taking my son to

GRITS POLLED 55 PER CENT OF QUEBEC VOTE

QUEBEC, Oct. 31—The Liberal party polled about 55 per cent of Quebec's total vote in the Oct. 25 election, according to preliminary calculations by The Canadian Press. Incomplete figures indicate the total vote will not exceed the 1936 record of 560,325.

Complete figures for all 86 constituencies may not be available for weeks because of delays in official returns. The first preliminary Canadian Press tabulation is based on complete returns in 42 constituencies, of which 21 are city seats and 21 rural.

The tabulation indicates the Union Nationale polled about 36 per cent of the total vote. Liberals polled 37 per cent of the city vote compared to 21 per cent for Union Nationale and 31 per cent of the rural vote compared to 43 per cent for the Union Nationale.

FRENCH PEASANT FIRST MAN SHOT ON BRITISH FRONT

WITH THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCE IN FRANCE, Oct. 31.—The first man wounded by a British bullet on the western front is a French peasant. Europe Waits Long-Threatened Holocaust Of Totalitarian War — Still It Does Not Come

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

EUROPE waited stolidly today for the long-threatened holocaust of totalitarian war—and still it did not come.

Two months after the formal declaration of hostilities, the diplomatic struggle still overshadowed the occasional artillery barrages on the Rhineland front and the drone of isolated warplanes over the North Sea.

Winter closed in on the western front.

Only over England—now the only real enemy the Nazis recognize—did the war bring fresh alarms. Air raid warnings shrieked in London and along the east coast.

Nazi airplanes hummed through the coastal haze and Royal Air Force fighters went up to meet them. Anti-aircraft guns blazed and the rattle of machine guns attracted many thousands of persons in the countryside, some of whom reported that one enemy flier was apparently forced down at sea.

On the Norfolk coast, the body

PARIS, Oct. 31.—Winter settled over the war front today. Snow flurries swept the Saar Valley and began piling up in drifts in the Vosges mountains near the Swiss border. Fliers reported sub-zero temperatures aloft.

The Duke of Windsor, completing a tour of the snowy regions of the front in his capacity as Inspector-General of the British army, advised that knitted woolens and comforts should be hurried to the soldiers. The Duke visited the French lines between the Moselle and Rhine and stopped at the evacuated city of Strasbourg while it was under fire of German heavy guns.

Fighting was reported at a minimum throughout a week-end blizzard. France's 112th war communique today said: "The night was calm. We repulsed several enemy minor attacks."

Most of the activity during the past 24 hours was centered north of Saar and east of Saarbrucken, where French artillery drove off

Entire Leadership Of Fascist Regime Reshuffled By Duce

By RICHARD MASSOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROME, Oct. 31—Premier Mussolini reorganized the entire leadership of the Fascist regime today in a shake-up of cabinet, party and top military posts unprecedented in its sweeping scope.

Seven cabinet ministers, the secretary of the Fascist party, the chiefs of staff of the army, air force and Fascist militia and four under-secretaries of state were replaced in the reshuffling. Mussolini yielded the portfolio of minister for Italian Africa to General Attilio Teruzzi.

Chief among those shifted were two Fascist notables widely credited with pro-German tendencies, Lieut.-General Achille Starace, relieved of the secretaryship of the Fascist party "at his own request," and Dino Alfieri, minister of popular culture (propaganda).

Starace was named chief of the general staff of the Fascist militia. Alfieri, ambassador waiting assignment.

Although some observers saw in the shake-up evidence of a lessening of German influence in Rome, foreign diplomatic circles here generally attributed it to conditions within the Fascist Party and government and considered it without bearing on foreign policy.

Starace had been secretary of the Fascist Party since Dec. 12, 1931. His successor as party secretary will be

247,000,000 BUSHELS FOR GRAIN CROP

Mullen Reports Huge Yields For Wheat, Oats and Barley

Alberta, with 8,379,000 acres of land in wheat, is expected to produce 143,000,000 bushels of wheat from this year's crop, according to figures released Tuesday by Hon. D. B. Mullen, minister of agriculture. With a total of 14,999,350 acres in field crops, the yield of wheat, oats and barley is expected to total 247,060,000 bushels.

Last year 7,960,000 acres were sown to wheat and the yield was 143,000,000 bushels, while the total acreage sown to field crops was 13,360,500 and the total production was 273,000,000 bushels, the main difference being in the oats production.

Mr. Mullen declared that the 1939 crop season was one of extremes for both temperatures and precipitation. The spring was generally dry and the Peace River district did not receive adequate precipitation until about July 15, when general rains occurred and these saved the crop.

Harvesting was delayed in September by several rainy periods and "considerable threshing remains to be completed at this date because of wet weather since about Oct. 1."

Frost was not a serious factor this year, although some damage was reported in west-central Alberta. Some hail occurred in the

Alberta Farmers' Convention Opens Vegreville Tuesday

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

VEGREVILLE, Oct. 31.—First annual convention of the United Farmers of Canada, Alberta division, opened at Vegreville Tuesday afternoon with delegates from more than 100 locals registering. The delegates were welcomed to Vegreville by Mayor J. B. Holden.

Speakers Tuesday afternoon included C. E. Christensen, of the Northern Alberta Dairy Pool; A. L. Horton; Wm. Yuseg, president of the United Farmers of Canada, Alberta division, and H. R. Boutilier, vice-president. Robert Gardiner, president of the U.F.A., will address the convention Tuesday evening.

63,750 Loans For Home Improvement Have High Value

OTTAWA, Oct. 31 — More and more Canadians are seeking to better their homes, and Hon. J. L. Ralston, finance minister, announced today that 63,750 home improvement loans with a value of $27,079,995 have been made in Canadian cities and towns with a population of 3,000 or more up to Sept. 30.

Loans in cities of more than 40,000 included: Calgary 1,233, $513,571; Edmonton, 2,016, $1,114,939.

LONDON PRESS HAILS DUCE'S SUDDEN PURGE

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 31.—London newspapers, featured the Italian cabinet shuffle with six-inch type: "Mussolini Sacks Pro-Germans."

Official reaction was more restrained. Mussolini's sudden purge was called "another stage in Italy's tendency towards confirmed neutrality and political independence."

Taken with Italy's non-aggression pact with Greece, the cabinet changes were regarded as likely to improve the atmosphere throughout the Balkan bloc.

Italy's pact with Greece strengthens the Anglo-French military pledge to Greece and, with the Anglo-French-Turkish treaty, should act as a further anti-Hitler agency in the Balkans.

SETTLEMENT OF DOBRUJA SNAG LIKELY

King Carol Is Prepared To Offer Bulgaria Privileges

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

BUCHAREST, Oct. 31.—Reliable sources reported today King Carol is prepared to offer Bulgaria a "psychological settlement" in her territorial dispute with Rumania over Dobruja.

Vasile Sioica, Rumanian ambassador to Turkey, was said to be on his way to Sofia, Bulgarian capital, with the offer.

Diplomatic circles said the proposal assures new privileges for Bulgarian speaking inhabitants of Dobruja and held the view any actual cession of territory at this time will peril Rumania's existence as a nation.

Rumanian possession of Dobruja was confirmed in the first great war settlement. Recent reports have indicated Soviet Russia is prepared to back Bulgaria's claims to the territory.

Despite the precarious diplomatic situation, Rumania has been ex-

AIR EXPERTS ASSEMBLE TO DISCUSS PLAN

Australian, New Zealand Missions Expected At Ottawa Today

OTTAWA, Oct. 31—Australian and New Zealand air experts are expected to arrive here by plane tonight and by the week-end conferences possibly will begin with British and Canadian aviation officials concerning the empire air training scheme.

Under the plan, military pilots from Britain, Australia and New Zealand will come to Canada to receive their intermediate and advanced training along with Canadian fliers. Preliminary training will be done at home.

A British air mission, headed by Lord Riverdale, has been in Ottawa for the past two weeks preparing for the empire conferences on the training scheme.

The Australian delegates are Hon. J. V. Fairbarn, controller of civil aviation, Richard Elford and George Jones and those from New Zealand are Group Captain H. W. L. Saunders, chief of the New Zealand air service, and T. A. Barrow.

Air training officials of the national defence department here are understood to have drawn up a comprehensive plan for the empire training project and it will be presented to the delegates from Britain and the other two dominions when they meet.

The plan is based on Canada's present training course, which turns out fighting airmen in 28 weeks. Empire airmen, taking only intermediate and advanced stages, will probably receive 16 weeks' training in this country.

QUESTIONS TO DECIDE

Questions to be decided almost at once are the number of pilots and other air force personnel who may be trained in Canada and the date at which training may start. The latter point hinges to some extent on the speed with which training facilities can be established in Canada and training aircraft acquired.

Pending completion of the arrangements between representatives of the four participating governments it is understood the Department of National Defence has taken certain steps towards the selection of sites for air training schools and the provision of instructors.

TRAINING SCHEME

The Empire air training scheme calls for all pilots, observers, wireless operators and air gunners to receive their preliminary training in their own country. Intermediate and advanced training will come in Canada.

The present training in Canadian flying clubs for air force men consists of 50 hours of flying. On completing that they are expected to be able to carry out ordinary flying operations, do a certain amount of air acrobatics, fly by compass, and effect emergency landings.

MILAN TRAIN WRECK KILLS EIGHT PEOPLE

MILAN, Italy, Oct. 31—At least eight persons were killed, 21 sent to hospitals and many others less seriously hurt last night in one of Italy's worst train wrecks in recent years.

A Venice-Milan 10-car train collided with a fast Genoa-Rome electric car in the suburbs of Milan. An official communique said the Venice train went against the signal at a fork of the tracks. The engineer of the Venice train and the conductor of the electric car were held for investigation.

The engineer of the electric train and a technician were killed. The engineer was Guiseppi Marser, 40, who designed a Breda company electric train credited with a world speed record of 130 miles an hour.

8 MINISTERS ITALY CABINET ARE SHIFTED

Ettore Muti, consul general of the militia.

While the posts of Starace and Alfieri, known as pro-Germans in foreign circles, were changed, General Alberto Pariani, who was also considered non-sympathetic toward Germany, was removed as chief of the army general staff in favor of Marshal Rodolfo Graziani.

NEW APPOINTMENTS

Other important new appointments were:

Minister of corporations—Renato Ricci, former undersecretary of youth education, succeeding Ferruccio Lantini.

Minister of popular culture—Alessandro Pavolini, former president of the Confederation of Artists and Professional People, succeeding Alfieri.

SUCCEEDING BENNI

Minister of communications—Host Venturi, former under-secretary, succeeding Commendatore Antonio Stefano Benni.

Minister of public works—Adelchi Serana, vice-secretary of the Fascist party, succeeding Giuseppe Cobolli-Gigli.

Under-secretary of war—General Soddu, succeeding Pariani.

Under-secretary of air forces—Gen. Francesco Pricolo, succeeding General Giuseppe Valle.

Under-secretary of reclamation—Sergio Nannini, former commissioner of international migration.

CARRY OUT EXTENSION

Tassinari's promotion made way for appointment of Nannini as under-secretary of reclamation in order to carry out the extension of Italy's tillable land in the campaign for agricultural self-sufficiency.

Nannini was succeeded as commissioner of international migration by Guiseppe Lombrassa.

Muti, who has been active in the Fascist party since the march on Rome 18 years ago and now becomes the party secretary, is a world war veteran. He was one of D'Annunzio's legionaries in the seizure of Fiume.

As chief of staff of the militia, Starace succeeds Lieutenant General Luigi Russo, who had held that position since Feb. 1, 1936, and who was made undersecretary of state in Mussolini's office.

AMBASSADORIAL POST

Lino Alfieri, Italian minister of propaganda, was named for an ambassadorial post, but it was not announced at what capital.

At the same time it was announced at the German embassy that the Reich's ambassador, Hans-Georg Von Mackensen, had returned to Berlin for "an extraordinary reason."

It was not known at once whether Von Mackensen had gone to report on developments leading up to today's cabinet reshuffle.

ELIMINATE CLAIM

Von Mackensen 10 days ago completed with Italy arrangements for removing to Germany about 200,000 German-speaking residents of the Italian Tyrol by 1942. Diplomats said this was designed to eliminate any German claim on the South Tyrol area that once belonged to Austria-Hungary.

The cabinet shakeup, first in three years, places in new jobs two Fascist notables widely credited with pro-German tendencies—Starace and Alfieri.

Marshal Rodolfo Graziani was named chief of the army general staff in place of Alberto Pariani while General Francesco Pricolo, commander of the second territorial air zone, replaced Squadron General Giuseppe Valle as chief of the Italian air forces.

INTENSIVE COLLABORATION

Last year, he forbade publication of foreign comic strips with the exception of Walt Disney's productions, and on Aug. 11 this year concluded with the German propaganda ministry a pact for intensive collaboration in journalism, propaganda, the radio, screen and stage.

Alessandro Pacolini, president of the Confederation of Artists and Professional People, becomes minister of popular culture.

Ferruccio Lantini was named president of the National Institute of Social Insurance; Giuseppe Cobolli-Gigli, president of the Italian General Petroleum Agency, and Cornelio di Marzio, president of the confederation succeeding Pavolini.

Ettore Muti, who succeeds to the Fascist party secretaryship, is a 37-year-old party Heri, 13 years younger than Starace, and thus meets Premier Mussolini's requirements for young men in high posts of the organization.

question of restoring Poland," and that it was "absurd to continue the present war" for such a cause.

Turning to Russia's own position in the changing international picture, Molotoff said that "thanks to our consistently pursued peaceful foreign policy, we have succeeded in considerably strengthening our position and the international weight of the Soviet Union."

NOT CONTRADICTED

Russia's neutrality stand was "in no wise contradicted by the entry of Soviet troops into Poland to participate in partition of that state," he said.

"Our troops entered the territory of Poland only after the Polish state had collapsed and actually ceased to exist. Naturally we could not remain neutral towards these facts, since as the result of these events we were confronted with urgent problems concerning the security of our state."

CASUALTIES

Molotoff for the first time disclosed the officially-admitted Russian casualties incurred in occupying the eastern half of Poland—737 dead and 1,862 wounded.

Two-thirds of the casualties occurred in taking over the western Ukraine, he said, adding that 300 planes were among the large quantities of war supplies captured.

RUSSIAN AIR UNITS AIDING CHINA FORCES

TOKYO, Oct. 31.—A correspondent of the newspaper Asahi reported Monday important Russian forces are still stationed in outer Mongolia, although Soviet troops, in conformity with the Moscow-Tokyo armistice, are being withdrawn from the Nomonhan frontier zone where they clashed with the Japanese earlier this year.

Following a visit to the former battleground on the border of outer Mongolia and Manchukuo, the correspondent reported that Soviet air units which participated in the Nomonhan engagements have been sent to various Chinese cities, including Sian and Chungking.

He claimed an air raid on Japanese-held Hankow, Oct. 3, by nine warplanes of Russian "S-B" manufacture indicated these units were participating now in Chinese operations against the Japanese.

Fresh Sign Of Growing Rift Italy and Germany

By JEAN ALLARY
Havas Staff Writer

PARIS, Oct. 31. — Today's reconstruction of the Italian cabinet, army and air command and Fascist party leadership was interpreted here as a fresh sign of a growing rift between Italy and Germany.

While it is true that Mussolini periodically renovates the top ranks of his aides and that such shifts do not necessarily reflect an actual or impending change of policy, it is nevertheless true that the men removed from office today are all known as Germanophiles.

They were the men who directed the Fascist party, the army and air force, and the propaganda throughout the period of the Rome-Berlin axis.

SECONDARY IMPORTANCE

In a totalitarian regime like Italy's, in which the single man, Mussolini, dominates and commands in all domains, the influence other leaders can have but a secondary importance. They form, at the most, a reflection of the tendencies of the leader at a given moment.

Dino Alfieri, as chief of Italian propaganda, and Achille Starace, as Fascist party chief, constituted the principal links between Mussolini and the masses. They are the men who gave out the daily slogans of the regime and played a big role as "instructors" of the Italian people during the height of German influence on Italian policy.

CLOSELY IDENTIFIED

They are the men most closely identified with the familiar but now largely unheard themes of "the pact of steel," "the agony of the democracies," the "future of the totalitarian nations".

During the last few days the main stress in the important newspapers, such as Count Galeazzo Ciano's Telegrafo, has been that Italy will not permit its policy to be dictated by anyone or by any "ideology" whatever. This affirmation of Italian independence made while German-Soviet ties tighten constitutes one of the most important facts of the present international situation.

German Press Prints Summary Pope's Encyclical

BERLIN, Oct. 31—German newspapers Monday published summaries of Friday's papal encyclical. Field Marshal Hermann Goering's National Zeitung deplored the fact Pope Pius expressed grief for the sufferings of Poland without mentioning the sufferings of Germans in that country before the war.

Commenting on passages concerning excessive nationalism and totalitarianism, the National Zeitung said: "Pope Pius voices a thesis which does not agree on many points with the principles that now inspire so many states on earth in the interests of their peoples."

some means Germany would win a quick victory.

An inspired source, commenting on Pope Pius' encyclical, said that there had been no official statement regarding the necessity for justice in war settlements.

EXTEND THE SCOPE

Negotiations with a strong Russian trade delegation started here yesterday. Nazis hinted that the Russians might have authority to extend the scope of their talks beyond the commercial field.

The Russian delegates are to be taken to inspect the Krupp armament works, other heavy industry areas, the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshaven and the West Wall. They are to be taken aboard a battleship and it is proposed to take them to see the new "people's" car factory, which is to build low-priced motor cars.

Cold At Front

Germans constructing new advance post positions. French patrols operated in the Blies sector despite heavy rains yesterday, and the weather was clearing today, but cold.

On the Italian frontier, snow had closed all the Alpine passes. Reports from Grenoble said there was 39 inches of snow in Galibier Pass, and only slightly less in Lauterate and St. Bernard passes. A severe winter was forecast and France's famous "Blue Devil" Alpine army was ordered to wax up its skis in preparation for intensive training in the early snow.

At London the Air Ministry reported that British fliers, on a reconnaissance trip over southern Germany last Friday, had encountered 30 below zero temperature and that six inches of ice had formed on the cowlings. The fliers' breath froze to their goggles and it was so cold that some of them got sick. Ice on the wings could be heard breaking loose and rattling against the fuselage and cabin windows. The fliers described an almost overpowering desire to sleep, the sensation during freezing.

Premier Edouard Daladier made a secret trip to the front Sunday, and reported on his return that the morale of the troops was excellent. He said fortifications had made good progress in spite of the bad weather.

of a Nazi airman was washed ashore—indicating that probably at least one more plane than counted by the British had been brought down at sea in combat last week.

On the seas, the Nazi offensive continued against the British navy and the allied blockade, but with diminished success.

The lack of military action did not necessarily blast persistent Allied predictions that the "war in earnest" would soon be launched or Nazi declarations that, since Adolf Hitler's "peace" was rejected, the destructive might of German armed forces would now "shower down" on the British Isles.

STRIKING CONTRAST

The vast fortifications on both land fronts, the defensive power of anti-aircraft and fast fighting planes and the indecisive tests between Nazi air and British sea power already has made the war a conflict in striking contrast to the lightning duel to death so often predicted before Hitler's invasion of Poland.

Even more in contrast to the predictions, it has started many observers talking about the possibility of a long sporadic war—a war of blackouts and immobility reminiscent of the Thirty Years' War in the 17th century.

TEST VULNERABILITY

Hitler has concentrated on thrusts designed to test the vulnerability of the British navy and on diplomatic manoeuvres intended to assure Germany's supply of raw materials regardless of the Allied blockade at sea.

Thus, the Balkan granary has become the most important field of diplomatic operations since Germany got together with Soviet Russia and permitted Moscow to take over the Baltic zone. Rumania, which has land coveted by Hungary, Bulgaria and Russia, appeared the most probable jumping off place for any new Nazi-Soviet move in southeastern Europe.

Against such an eventuality, the British and French worked to establish their own influence in the Balkans and counted on Italy's long-established desire for a strong Balkan bloc under Fascist leadership as possible aid if the showdown comes.

periencing a war boom by selling food and supplies to neutrals and belligerents.

Agents clamored for seagoing freighters to take 100,000 tons of grain to Italy and another 100,000 tons to England. River boats and railroad cars for shipment of 300,000 tons of grain contracted by the Reich were at a premium.

Although market reports were sketchy, authoritative sources said one grain deal with Germany was completed at almost twice the world market quotation.

Italy, Turkey and Greece were reported contesting with Germany for a share of Rumania's oil.

The government took steps to prevent internal prices from skyrocketing. Industrialists were ordered to report their raw material needs for a year in advance so there would be no excuse for a price boost on claims of shortages.

BERLIN, Oct. 31—The German News Agency, D.N.B., reported that a Yugoslav delegation soon will go to Bucharest for economic negotiations with the Rumanian government.

JOE MILNE IS ELECTED HEAD OF PIPE BAND

Joe Milne was elected president of the Edmonton Boys' Pipe Band at a meeting of the trustees and executive held in the I. O. O. F. hall.

R. Alnutt was elected chairman for one year. I. Nudd, secretary-treasurer; Thomas Campbell, honorary president, and Larry Peel, second vice-president.

Members of the executive are H. Esplen, St. Andrew's' Society; F. H[illegible], Caledonian Society; R. Aln[illegible] Gaelic Society; J. Adamson, W. Murray, J. Lockie, J. Stevenson, Stewart Ratcliffe. Chester Peel is drum instructor and John Robertson pipers' instructor.

It was decided that the band will secure an instructor for the older boys. Ladies of the association offered to supply refreshments for the Hogmanay dance on December 30.

PIONEER SETTLER AT HORSE HILL PASSES TUESDAY

Another link with the early days of the west snapped Tuesday with the death of Mrs. Caroline Borgwardt, 82, of Horse Hill, one of the first white women to settle in the district. Mrs. Borgwardt came to Alberta before it was officially named a province and played an important role in the development of the Horse Hill community.

Native of Fhulhendorf, Germany, Mrs. Borgwardt came to Canada 54 years ago. She lived at Halifax for four years and then, coming west, entered Alberta in 1889, residing at Medicine Hat for two years. In 1891, she came to Horse Hill with her husband, the late Henry Borgwardt, and made her home there until her death.

She is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Mary Stanlake, Mrs. J. A. Clarke and Mrs. W. L. Sharpe; two sons, Charles and William, all of Horse Hills; two sisters and one brother in Germany; three grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Her husband pre-deceased her in 1918.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday from St. John's Lutheran church with Rev. R. Krisch officiating. Interment will take place in Little Mountain cemetery. Howard and McBride are in charge of arrangements.

HARVESTING IS BEING RESUMED AS SUN SHINES

Threshing operations are being resumed in many districts as fine weather continues to prevail over the province. Reports from the south and north state that separators are again humming following last week's snowfalls.

With land drying rapidly in the Raymond area of southern Alberta, sugar beet growers expect to have their crops out of the ground before winter's next onslaught.

As temperatures rose all over the west Monday, Edmonton's weather station thermometer recorded a "torrid" 52 above. Overnight low was 26 above.

Local forecast is for continued moderately warm weather.

All ferries in the near north were operating Tuesday morning, while ice in the Saskatchewan river had disappeared almost entirely in the Edmonton district.

McLaws Is Named Alberta Auxiliary Services Officer

CALGARY, Oct. 31.—William McLaws, Bassano lawyer, has been appointed auxiliary services officer for military district No. 13, officials announced Monday.

Mr. McLaws will supervise and co-ordinate all social service activities for the army, including those of the Young Men's Christian Association, Canadian Red Cross Society and Salvation Army, as well as sports and entertainment.

Calgary, Cardston, Swalwell and Innisfail areas, but the damage was not extensive.

GRASSHOPPERS

Grasshoppers were plentiful but no large area was appreciably damaged. Cutworms were bad in the Peace River area, causing damage estimated at as much as 25 per cent. in the west Grande Prairie section. Rust was not reported in any part of the province. The potato crop in Alberta is materially lower than in 1938, due mainly to drought conditions in August. An outbreak of bacterial wilt and net necrosis caused concern among producers.

Livestock markets have been generally firm and were strengthened when war was declared. Marketings to date this year have been a little lower than for the same period of 1938.

Production of butter fat has been running about 10 per cent. below that of a year ago for the last four or five weeks and if this trend continues there is likely to be a decrease of about five per cent. from last year's high production of 31,250,000 pounds. In spite of the fact that for the first nine months of 1939 factory cheese production was 2.1 per cent. ahead of that of a year ago, total production for the year is not expected to equal 1938. Estimated production for this year is 2,300,000 pounds as against 2,400,000 pounds last year.

The fur year has been satisfactory, said Mr. Mullen. A material increase in pelts taken is reported since last year, the figures for 1937-1938 being 1,476,698 while for 1938-1939 they are 2,273,826. The value of these pelts showed an increase from $1,156,012.80 to $1,345,129.78.

GRAIN YIELD

Spring rye is expected to yield 856,000 bushels from 62,300 acres; fall rye 2,026,000 bushels from 126,000 acres; and flaxseed 300,000 bushels from 40,000 acres. Spring rye and flaxseed show increases over the previous year but fall rye is down.

From Jan. 1 to Oct. 1 of this year the province produced an estimated 17,368,000 dozen of eggs against a total for 1938 of 23,158,000 dozen. In the same period of this year there were 1,409,006 baby chicks hatched as against 1,164,757 for the entire year 1938.

In the province this year there are estimated to be 651,600 horses; 1,337,400 cattle; 993,200 swine; 834,300 sheep and lambs; 495,000 turkeys; 100,000 geese; 59,900 ducks and 7,068,000 other fowl.

In 1938 there were 648,000 horses; 1,361,600 cattle; 707,000 swine; 833,800 sheep and lambs; 445,000 turkeys; 101,000 geese; 49,500 ducks and 6,325,000 other fowl.

On Oct. 1 of this year there was a total of 3,609,876 pounds of butter in storage in this province and 56,813,839 pounds in the Dominion as against 5,732,312 pounds in this province and 64,625,110 pounds in the Dominion on the same date a year ago.

Socred Members Meet In Caucus Here Wednesday

Social Credit members of parliament will meet in general caucus at the Legislative buildings at 10 a.m. Wednesday. For the last several days a committee of the members has been in session, drafting an agenda and preparing for the discussions. On Wednesday it is expected that the 15 members of the group from this province and Saskatchewan will convene.

Sitting on the committee were Rev. E. G. Hansell, M.P. for Macleod and deputy house leader of the group; Orvis A. Kennedy, M.P. for East Edmonton, and Walter Kuhl, M.P. for Jasper-Edson, while L. D. Byrne, technical adviser to the Social Credit Board, also has been sitting in.

Discussions at the caucus will include the activities of the group for the winter and the plans for anticipated by-election in the Kindersley, Sask., constituency, as a result of the offer of O. B. Elliott, sitting Social Credit member, to resign to make way for Hon. W. D. Herridge, leader of the New Democracy party.

Japanese Police Disclose Attempt To Murder Ugaki

TOKYO, Oct. 31—Domei, Japanese news agency, said Monday in a dispatch from Sapporo that police disclosed the attempted assassination of General Kazushige Ugaki, former minister of foreign affairs, while travelling last June. The dispatch said Masayushi Yabuci, 20, entered Ugaki's railway compartment and unsuccessfully attacked him with a dagger.

The attacker was quoted as saying Ugaki's liberalism retarded Japan's announced intention to set up a "new order" in eastern Asia.

Non-Aggression Pact Likely For Italy And Greece

LONDON, Oct. 31. — The Rotterdam correspondent of the London Times reported today rumors are current that a pact of non-aggression will be signed shortly between Italy and Greece.

The correspondent said it was understood Italy took the first step in the negotiations, adding that it was believed King George of Greece received the Italian ambassador at Athens. The reported audience lasted one hour.

Death's Day Off Big Help In Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 31—It was death's day off in Kentucky yesterday.

A passenger train struck an automobile near Harrodsburg, but three occupants of the car suffered only minor injuries.

At Irvine, a speeding motor car left a highway, leaped over a 35-foot ravine and a four-foot fence, and landed right side up. Four persons riding in it needed only slight medical attention.

Two elderly women suffered bruises at Louisville when their automobile went out of control, made a "U" turn, jumped a curb, climbed a 10-foot embankment and crashed into a house.

Fourteen cars of a freight train piled up at Hopkinsville. No one was hurt.

measure is expected to raise $800,000 in Finnish markkaa.

The negotiating committee headed by Dr. Juho Paasikivi, is expected to reach Moscow Thursday morning.

The ministry of interior, in asking border residents not to return to their homes, said the situation which caused their original removal had not changed.

The task of digging air raid shelter trenches and other defence preparations went ahead steadily.

The air of having made a definite decision pervaded government circles.

TOBACCO PRICE JUMP

The government decreed a 20 per cent increase in tobacco prices, half the advance going to the national treasury for defence expenses.

The foreign office decline comment on reports circulating here that Russia had asked for a 50-mile coastal strip and four islands in the Gulf of Finland for military purposes, the right to participate in fortification of the Aaland Islands in the Gulf of Bothnia, and a Soviet-Finnish military pact.

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 31—A Soviet demand for air and naval bases in Bulgaria was predicted today by political circles in the Reich, according to the Berlin correspondent of the Svenska Dagbladet. The Russian claim will open a new phase of Russo-Italian rivalry in the Balkans, the dispatch said.

NEW BUILDINGS FOR DOMINION ARE ANNOUNCED

OTTAWA, Oct. 31—The public works department last night announced more than $1,300,000 in contracts have been let in Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia.

Oldest Building In Wildwood Is Gutted By Blaze

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

WILDWOOD, Oct. 31.—The oldest building on the present townsite of Wildwood was destroyed Monday night when fire razed the Wildwood Farmer's Trading Store owned by H. Michaluk, second hand furniture store and auction room owned by Steve Pakon, and a watchmaker's shop run by H. Edgar. Cause of the fire is unknown.

The building was erected 20 years ago as a general store, post office and warehouse by Swan Swanson and Anderson, pioneer Wildwood merchants, now of Edmonton. The building was sold to Pouly Pakon, daughter of Steve Pakon, several years ago.

The building was a total loss as there was no insurance covering it. Mr. Michaluk estimated his loss to be about $3,000 and Steve Pakon placed a value of $5,000 on his goods. Belongings stored by George Machimek in the building were valued at $150. Mr. Edgar was unable to estimate his loss Tuesday morning.

Efforts of a voluntary fire brigade were successful in saving surrounding buildings, including the pool hall, Universal garage and a shoe repair shop.

home of Mel Larson, hospital engineer, on the grounds.

She had stuffed several cans of soup, spaghetti, bread and a jar of jelly into a pillow case. She also obtained two pairs of shoes and some hosiery from the home.

Dr. Saxe said she told him she had been hiding in a corn field near the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. J. McKinnell.

"Well, here I am," she said to Dr. Saxe when ushered into his presence.

VISITED MINISTER

After she had been questioned as to her whereabouts the last six days, she remarked:

"I'm telling you a lot and you're telling me nothing."

Sheriff Lon Jordan reported he learned yesterday Mrs. Judd, slayer of Agnes Ann Le Roi and Hedvig Samuelson, whose bodies she dismembered and shipped to Los Angeles in trunks, visited three hours Sunday night with a minister in Tempe, about 10 miles east of here.

Jordan earlier had disclosed someone telephoned him at 3 a.m. to say he had found Mrs. Judd and was in the act of delivering her to the hospital when she jumped from the automobile and made her getaway.

Sheriff's deputies had searched underbrush, orange groves, fields and vacant houses in vicinity of the hospital grounds throughout the day.

WAVES ARMS WILDLY

Dr. Saxe said he started to question her about how she had lived and what she had eaten during her absence, but "decided she was too excited."

He said Mrs. Judd related she had obtained one of the two objectives of her escape—that of seeing her father. She said she had not seen her husband, Dr. W. C. Judd, of Los Angeles, who spent the week-end here.

Dr. Saxe and Governor Jones had assured the press and Mrs. Judd's parents no effort would be made to have her declared sane and executed if she would return, or if she were captured. Both declared Mrs. Judd, known as the "Blonde Tigress" because of her many tantrums during her murder trial in 1932, was growing "gradually worse" in recent months.

LIBERTY HANGS ON THIN THREAD APPEAL REVEALS

On very slender threads of law hangs the liberty of the subject.

This was amply demonstrated Monday in supreme court chambers when A. W. Miller, Edmonton barrister, successfully prosecuted an appeal on behalf of Margaret Morrison against conviction and two-month sentence imposed by Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., on a vagrancy charge.

Mr. Miller submitted that the lower court did not have jurisdiction as his client had refused to plead to the charge, and following her refusal Magistrate Millar had failed to direct that a plea of not guilty be entered before he proceeded to try the case.

Mr. Justice W. C. Ives held that the objection raised by Mr. Millar was fatal to the conviction and ordered it quashed.

Voucher Pact In Civil Service Expires Tuesday

Six months agreement between the provincial government and members of the Civil Service Association, by which the civil service accepted 25 per cent. of all salaries in provincial treasury vouchers, expired Tuesday.

It was pointed out that October pay is covered by the agreement, and that before another pay is due, the agreement may be renewed.

Expectation is that a meeting of the joint council of the government and Civil Service Association will be held within the next week to discuss details of a renewal.

First discussions between government and association were for acceptance of 50 per cent. of salaries in vouchers, but finally 25 per cent. was agreed upon. Cabinet ministers also took their share of salary in vouchers.

The plan is reported to have worked successfully in view of the fact that more than 6,000 merchants in the province accept the vouchers in payment of goods.

Congress Party Cabinets Quit All Over India

BOMBAY, Oct. 31.—The Congress party governments of Bombay and Bihar resigned today in protest against Britain's decision not to consider further constitutional reforms immediately.

The Congress party cabinets in Madras and the United provinces had previously resigned. Altogether the party has a majority of eight of the 11 provinces in British India.

The resignations came as M. K. Gandhi, one of the party leaders, prepared to leave Wardha for New Delhi for a conference with the viceroy, the Marquess of Linlithgow, whose statement earlier this month, announcing dominion status for India would be considered only after the war had been concluded, precipitated the situation.

TORONTO MAN IS ARRESTED FOR SLAYING

Edward O'Hanlon Charged With Milkman's Death

TORONTO, Oct. 31—Edward O'Hanlon, 27, of Toronto, was arrested late Monday and charged with the murder of George Fludd, milk-truck driver whose body was found in a shallow grave here Oct. 23.

Police said O'Hanlon made a statement before the murder charge was laid.

Assistant inspector of detectives Moses Mullholland announced O'Hanlon confessed.

Body of the milk truck driver was found in a shallow grave in a garage here a week ago. He had been missing since July 10.

HAMMER FOUND

Beside the body was found a hammer with hairs clinging to it, and a double loop of quarter-inch rope was about the man's neck.

Fludd disappeared while making collections on his milk route in East York townships—the other side of the city from where the body was found.

Assistant Inspector Mullholland said that according to O'Hanlon's confession, Fludd was hit on the head with a hammer. The blow was said to have followed an altercation, topic of which authorities refused to reveal.

Police said O'Hanlon had admitted robbing Fludd of $20 in bills and silver. It there was another motive for the slaying, authorities refused to disclose it.

METHOD OF KILLING

Police said O'Hanlon and Fludd had been drinking together during the day of the milk driver's death. They alleged O'Hanlon struck Fludd with a hammer, then tied a rope about his neck and bundled him into a stolen automobile.

The body, officers said, was left all night in the car on a suburban drive and was taken by O'Hanlon the following day to the garage where it was found.

FRENCH FRONT JUST SAME AS IN FIRST WAR

England and hoping to get there. But an hour later he was back again with his passport because of snow in the sky.

This morning it cleared but a north wind blew hard when I went up to the headquarters of the Guards battalions and walked with their colonel along a muddy track to see his pillboxes and defensive line.

Once again I had a sense of having slipped back through the years. Surely it was only the day before yesterday that this colonel was a young lieutenant in the Guards down from the Somme who had lain next to me in the military hospital at Amiens when the German bombers used to come at night to disturb our rest.

LONG TALKS

At that time we used to have long talks from our beds about the war, and they used to scandalize a general, also in the ward, by our criticism of the High Command. Now he is the senior officer with grave responsibilities on his own shoulders in another war that neither of us imagined would ever happen.

He talked to me about his men. Thirty per cent of the men are reservists and he finds them fine fellows, very easy to handle because of their self-discipline and experience of life. They are a grand influence among the younger men who are also keen.

SAME TYPES

In the officers' mess I sat with the same types I had known in that other war, which for most of them is far back in history. There was the usual humorist and the usual chaff round the table. They questioned me as a new arrival from the outside world about the meaning and mystery of this war, but I could give them no clue to this riddle.

SPIRIT OF TROOPS UNCHANGED

But one thing I learned in the short time I have been out here. Whatever happens, the spirit of officers and men has not changed though another generation has arrived since my last war when in trench coat I trudged through French mud with British soldiers.

TAKEN OVER TRADITION

The young officers of today have taken over the tradition in the manner of their fathers. The men who go less foot-slogging but travel along the roads in army lorries, huddled again in the rain and sleet with the same cheeriness as their predecessors who made a joke of Flanders mud and roasted a good old chorus to keep themselves warm.

But there is a difference, a world of difference, though it may not last. There is no hell fire corner. The chorus is not interrupted by high explosive fire nor is a joke make sharper by the whiz of high velocities. All that is yet to come, if it comes.

Forty per cent. or 320,000, of the restaurants of the world are in the United States.

LONDON, Oct. 31—The war on the sea, unlike the quiet prevailing on the western front, continued fiercely Monday, sinking of five more ships sending the known loss in all nations to 103 and the loss in lives to at least 1,850.

The admiralty announced a flotilla of its destroyers had engaged in a battle with two German planes off the Dogger Banks in the North Sea but that they had suffered no casualties and "it is not known whether the enemy suffered damage."

BRITISH LOSE 56

The destruction of the Cunard White Star liner-freighter Lulsbar, 7,976 tons; the fishing trawler Lynx II, 290 tons, and the Saint Nidan, 585 tons, sent the known British losses to 56

Neutral losses rose to 31 when the ninth Norwegian ship to go down, the Varangamalm, 3,618 tons, struck a mine and sank in the North Sea, and the 1,341-ton Finnish freighter sank in the North Sea following an explosion. Nineteen of its crew of 21 were rescued by the Norwegian ship Minona and taken to an English port.

All of the crews involved, except five men trapped in the engine room of the Malabar, were rescued.

Total known tonnage lost is close to at least 412,969 gross tons, excluding the tonnage of at least a dozen unidentified vessels.

CONVOY IS ATTACKED

Norwegian officials reported the sinking of the Varangmalm, which caused marine circles to believe she was the unidentified ship reported as sunk in the North Sea Sunday.

A submarine attack on a convoy of 24 British and Finnish vessels on Oct. 24 near Gibraltar was reported Monday when 61 survivors of the Clan Chisholm arrived at Oslo on the Bardaland, a Swedish freighter.

Survivors said they thought five ships had been sunk by reports by the admiralty and other sources listed only four.

Sinking of the British trawlers indicated Germany had renewed her attack against the English fish supply. Previously, she had sunk four trawlers.

GIRLS PICKET STEEL PLANT ON ROLLER SKATES

TORONTO, Oct. 31—Half a dozen girls on roller skates formed a musical-comedyish picket line outside the General Steel Wares, Ltd., plant Monday, where approximately 500 employees are on strike for higher wages.

The girl skaled up and down the street with placards that read:

"We'll roll till it freezes

"For wage increases."

The rhyme was the inspiration of one of the executives of Lodge No. 1111 of the steel workers' organizing committee, an affiliate of the Congress for Industrial Organization.

TORY LEADER SAYS ELECTION MOVE POLITICAL

WOODSTOCK, N.B., Oct. 31.—The Conservative party in New Brunswick is "fully in accord with the fullest co-operation with the Dominion government in the prosecution of the war," F. C. Squires, provincial Conservative leader, said last night in a statement in which he criticized the provincial Liberal administration for calling an election for November 20.

Charging Premier A. A. Dysart's election announcement was a "political move," Mr. Squires said "this government, in bringing on the election before the government's term of office expires, showed little co-operation with the Dominion government."

"The leader of the Dominion government has expressed disapproval of the bringing of elections in Canada before a government's term of office expires," the Conservative leader added.

Investigation Of Reds, Nazis Asked By Tory Chieftain

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Oct. 31.—Lieut.-Col. George A. Drew, leader of the Ontario Conservative party, last night urged widespread Federal investigation of Nazi and Communist activities in Canada. He was addressing the St. Catharines Chamber of Commerce.

Col. Drew said Communist propaganda was impossible to check and "much of the printed matter used by the Fascist organization in Canada under the symbol of the Maple Leaf is printed on the Nazi propaganda presses of Hamburg."

Czechs Fighting Nazis On 2 Fronts

TORONTO, Oct. 31—Joseph Martinek of Chicago, head of the Czecho-Slovak national council of America, said here last night Czechs are fighting Nazis on the "western" front as soldiers in the Allied armies and on the "eastern" front as civilians doing as much sabotage in the Reich as possible.

Thomas Jefferson, in writing his own epitaph, made no mention of being President and left specific directions that "not a word more" be added to his copy.

Something new in headgear was seen when socially prominent Katharine R. Jones, of New York, recently attended the races at Belmont Park, L.I., wearing a dress with this high, pointed hood attached.

LITIGATION OF SMALL ESTATE TO BE RESUMED

TORONTO, Oct. 31—Litigation of the $3,000,000 estate of Ambrose J. Small, missing theatrical magnate, and his widow who died in 1933, will be resumed as a result of the drowning of Mrs. Warren G. Bell, who was Gertrude Small, a sister of Ambrose.

Proceedings will be entered against the $100,000 held in trust for Mrs. Bell, by Florence Small, sister of Gertrude, and by Patrick Sullivan, advisor to the small sisters since Ambrose disappeared 20 years ago.

On behalf of Florence, Sullivan said he would move before the supreme court to prevent distribution of the $100,000 to the Sisters of Service, a Roman Catholic organization, which, under the terms of Ambrose Small's will receive the amount on Gertrude's death.

Sullivan said a restraining order will be sought to prevent payment, immediately after the Tuesday funeral of Mrs. Bell, who drowned with her husband of a few hours Thursday night when their automobile plunged into a river at Wasaga Beach.

PENDERGAST IS INDICTED ON BRIBERY

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 31—A grand jury swung another blow at Democratic boss Tom Pendergast with a bribery indictment Monday.

The one-time political Czar of Kansas City was charged on two counts with paying $62,500 to R. Emmet O'Malley, former Missouri insurance superintendent, for the latter's approval of a fire insurance rate compromise involving more than $9,000,000.

O'Malley was indicted by the same grand jury on two counts of accepting bribes.

Both men are in Leavenworth penitentiary on their pleas of guilty to income tax evasion charges growing out of the insurance case settlement.

Warrants for their arrest were mailed to Leavenworth prison. They will serve as hold orders at the time the men are released. When that will be is uncertain. Pendergast was sentenced last June to 15 months and O'Malley to a year and a day. Both have applied for paroles.

Veteran African Missionary Dies

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 31.—Edward Francis Rice, 61, associate with the Sudan international mission for many years, died Oct. 22 in Nigeria, according to word received here last night by his widow. Mr. Rice, an itinerant missionary who once was associated with the Moody church in Chicago, had planned to sail for Canada Oct. 19, but illness prevented.

Easily-Read Plates For Ontario Autos

TORONTO, Oct. 31.—J. P. Bickell, registrar of motor vehicles, announced here today license plates in Ontario for automobiles in 1940 will be bright yellow in color, with black numerals and letters, a color scheme rated by scientists as that affording the highest possible visibility. Numerals will be an inch larger than those used in the past.

Germany Is Assessed $50,000,000 For Great War Explosions in U.S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—Germany was formally assessed $50,000,000 damages Monday for the tremendous explosions at Black Tom and Kingsland, N.J., during the first Great War, but the 153 claimants to whom the awards were made had little prospect of getting any more than $26,000,000.

The awards were made by Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts as umpire of a German-American mixed claims commission.

The Kingsland explosion involved property of the Canadian Car and Foundry company, whose headquarters are in Montreal. The Canadian firm was awarded $5,871,-105, second largest of the awards.

It appeared likely the claimants would get only the $26,000,000 which Germany had already deposited with the United States treasury to meet an award. Those funds will be prorated among the claimants.

Besides the $26,000,000 the treasury also holds $820,000,000 of republic of Germany bonds, but these are considered virtually worthless as security for judgment.

The Germans also boycotted a session last June 15, when the commission formally found the imperial German government responsible for the explosion of 2,000,000 pounds of munitions at the Mammolia Black Tom island freight terminal, near Jersey City, July 30, 1916, and a fire that blew up 500,000 threshold shells at Kingsland Jan. 11, 1917—while the United States was still neutral.

Russian Ambassador to U.S. Faces Big Task in Rebuilding Relations

By ANDRUE BERDING
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—Ambassador Constantine Cumansky, Russian ambassador to the United States who recently was ordered back to his post after several months' leave, faces a real task if he is to bring Soviet-American relations back to the realm of cordial friendship.

Since Cumansky left for Moscow events have occurred that raise questions as to relations between the two countries. The lack of cooperation charged against Russia by Secretary of State Cordell Hull in the case of the steamship City of Flint is only the culmination of the series.

PACT STARTS TROUBLE

Feeling in United States government circles turned against Russia shortly after signing of a nonaggression pact with Germany. When the war began, some officials held Russia indirectly responsible for it, since they feared Hitler might not have marched into Poland if it had not been for Russian agreements.

Sentiment here crystallized when Russian troops invaded Poland. Russia's statement of neutrality was received by the United States government with skepticism. It was derided, however, not to take any action such as denominating Russia a belligerent and including her within the neutrality act proclamation, because it was felt any abrupt move might force Russia still farther into Germany's arms.

The czar Russian rapid moves into the Baltic—into Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania. The Washington government did not view this with equanimity. When the turn of Finland seemed next, President Roosevelt appealed to President Kallinin of Russia not to disturb the peace in the Baltic.

UNSATISFACTORY REPLY

The reply from the Soviet president did not satisfy officials here. They were far from reassured at the Soviet statement she wanted only the mutual security of herself and Finland.

On the heels of this came the City of Flint incident, marked by what officials here considered discourteous treatment of the United States ambassador, Laurence A. Steinhardt, by the foreign office. Nor was it the first time in this crisis that an American diplomat had been treated with less courtesy. Russian police arrested vice-consul William Morton of the staff of the Warsaw consulate when he was supervising the evacuation of Americans from Russian-occupied Poland.

Salvation Army Tag Day Nov. 4

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—A tag day to provide immediate funds for activities already inaugurated at the front will be held by the Salvation Army throughout the British Empire on Nov. 4, Lieut.-Col. Gilbert Bell, divisional commander of the Montreal-Ottawa district, announced Monday.

Fourth Victim Of Rockburst Is Dead

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., Oct. 31—William Suzik, 24, died in hospital here Monday, fourth victim of a rockburst at Lake Shore gold mines last Tuesday which trapped seven men. Suzik was the most seriously injured of the four men brought out by rescue crews.

LITIGATION OF SMALL ESTATE TO BE RESUMED

TORONTO, Oct. 31—Litigation of the $3,000,000 estate of Ambrose J. Small, missing theatrical magnate, and his widow who died in 1933, will be resumed as a result of the drowning of Mrs. Warren G. Bell, who was Gertrude Small, a sister of Ambrose.

Proceedings will be entered against the $100,000 held in trust for Mrs. Bell, by Florence Small, sister of Gertrude, and by Patrick Sullivan, advisor to the small sisters since Ambrose disappeared 20 years ago.

On behalf of Florence, Sullivan said he would move before the supreme court to prevent distribution of the $100,000 to the Sisters of Service, a Roman Catholic organization, which, under the terms of Ambrose Small's will receive the amount on Gertrude's death.

Sullivan said a restraining order will be sought to prevent payment, immediately after the Tuesday funeral of Mrs. Bell, who drowned with her husband of a few hours Thursday night when their automobile plunged into a river at Wasaga Beach.

U.S. IS TOLD ATHENIA SHIP HAD NO GUNS

British Note Is Presented To State Department By Lord Lothian

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Great Britain formally denied Monday that the liner Athenia carried guns, was designed to be a raider or was sunk by the British.

A note presented at the state department by the Marquess of Lothian, British ambassador, also said the ship carried neither bullion nor securities and reiterated that "according to the evidence in the possession of His Majesty's government, she was sunk by a submarine."

CHARGED BY NAZIS

Joseph Goebbels, German propaganda minister, has charged the Athenia carried guns for Canadian coastal defence and for equipping the ship as a raider. Berlin officials repeatedly have denied the ship was sunk by a German warvessel and Goebbels singled out the British sank her in an effort to involve United States in the war.

Lord Lothian's note made no direct reference to Goebbels' charges, but noted that Gustav Anderson, an American passenger on the Athenia, had made an affidavit before H. M. Copland, the ship's chief officer, told him that there were guns in the hold and that the Athenia was to be outfitted as a raider. Anderson's affidavit was taken during the state department's investigation of the sinking. More than 100 persons, including Canadians and Americans, were lost when the ship went down Sept. 3.

NEVER DISCUSSED

The note said that "Chief Officer Copland has sworn in an affidavit that he never discussed with Mr. Gustav Anderson the question whether or not there were guns on board the 'Athenia.' Mr. Copland's affidavit also contains a sworn statement that there were in point of fact no guns or other munitions carried as cargo in the ship on the voyage in question."

Winnipeg Girl Is Believed Suicide

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31—Police are investigating the death of Miss Annie Kuzyk, 20, found dead, shot through the head on a vacant lot here Sunday. Police expressed belief that the bullet wound was self-inflicted. A .32 calibre automatic pistol was found lying beside the girl with the ammunition clip missing from the handle.

Defaulted Bonds To Be Refinanced

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—Officials said Monday the United States government is working on a proposal for refinancing more than $1,000,000 defaulted securities of Latin American countries which are owned by American investors. It was said negotiations already are progressing with one country.

Recently a Boeing YB-17A (Flying Fortress) flew at an average speed of 259 miles an hour with a payload of 11,023 pounds to set a new speed record.

GREENFIELD AGAIN HEADS PETROL BODY

Association Is Opposed To Provincial Ruling On Sample Cores

CALGARY, Oct. 31—Herbert H. Greenfield, former United Farmers of Alberta provincial premier, last night was re-elected president of the Alberta Petroleum Association.

F. M. Graham, head of Sunset Oil, was renamed vice-president and E. W. Kolb, secretary.

Other directors re-elected included G. E. Wall, R. A. Brown, Sr., and J. H. McLeod. New directors are W. H. Jones, R. W. Ward, J. G. Spratt, and R. L. Thorne.

Association members at the annual meeting went on record as being opposed to the ruling of the Alberta petroleum and natural gas conservation board that requires taking of sample cores from the Turner Valley limestone. To get the two compulsory 10-foot cores would cost $500 apiece, it was stated, and members felt the practicable value to the industry was questionable and that it was a burden of expense to well drilling.

As an alternative to the board ruling, the A.P.A. suggested the coring order be rescinded and operators be requested to co-operate with the board in obtaining core data where it could be shown that such information was of particular value.

Two Shipwrecks In Single Night For Fishing Crew

LONDON, Oct. 31—Fishermen of the British trawler St. Nidan, a shipwrecked twice in one night by a submarine whose commander said "it's not you fellows we want, it's Chamberlain."

The fishermen reported Monday they would have been shipwrecked a third time but the submarine apparently mistook another trawler for a warship and ran away.

Hardly had the trawler Lynx II picked them up after the St. Nidan went down than it too was sunk.

Then the trawler Lady Hogarth appeared and the submarine fled.

New Heat Record

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31—An official maximum of 99 degrees centigrade Monday to Los Angeles' hottest October on record.

Air-Raid Alarm Sounds Near Headquarters of British Army at Front

WITH THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCES SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, Oct. 31.—Not very far away from Lord Gort's general headquarters, work stopped for five minutes Monday.

At 11.35 a.m. an air raid alarm was signalled by the wail of sirens. Traffic stopped, and the people in the town, including a number of British war correspondents, took cover.

At 11.40 the "all clear" was sounded and the inhabitants emerged from cellars and other refuges. Windows were opened and traffic propped out. In the clear, blue, sunlit sky no trace of any aircraft could be seen.

MANY ROAD MISHAPS

In view of the heavy traffic along roads in the British zone in France, where the normal civilian flow has been increased greatly by thousands of British military vehicles of every kind, it is not surprising that a number of road accidents have taken place.

The risks are being lessened considerably by efforts of a corps of military police, who provide traffic policemen patrols and even "courtesy cops". The personnel includes a large proportion of men who some 10 weeks ago were employed on English roads by the automobile association.

But in the circumstances accidents must necessarily happen, and one c. the tasks which the British field forces has undertaken is to repair damaged vehicles. Today the Reuters correspondent visited the "workshop" of the Royal Army Ordnance Corps, a sort of hospital for broken lorries, cars and motorcycles. Cottages had been converted into work rooms and large "garages" arranged under canvas awnings. Various units were spread over an area of some three square miles.

AVOID CONCENTRATION

A "shop" may be situated under a roof of canvas spread over the legs of two lorries standing a few feet apart. It may be inside what was once a road mender's humble home, or it may be a shed in a farmyard. The purpose of this dispersal is to avoid any large concentration which might attract unwelcome attention from the air.

A pint of water and a pint of alcohol do not measure one quart when added together.

WITNESS SAYS CROWN DROPS THEFT CHARGE

Shea Claims Proceedings Are Stayed In Bank Robbery Case

BRAMPTON, Ont., Oct. 31—John R. Shea, testifying after the crown dropped an armed robbery charge against him, declared from the witness stand at the Peel County fall assizes here Monday he was one of three men who held up the Port Credit branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Dec. 8, 1938.

Shea, who had been jointly charged with Leo Gauthier and Alex MacDonald with armed robbery of the bank branch and wounding an employee, said the three men met the night before the hold-up to arrange details.

On instructions from the Ontario Attorney-General's office, proceedings against Shea were stayed, while charges against Gauthier and MacDonald proceeded.

In Toronto, Attorney-General Gordon Conant said in connection with the case: "In the best interests of the administration of justice, I will add anything." Shea testified as a crown witness in the retrial now proceeding in Toronto of Donald (Mickey) MacDonald, charged with the murder last January of James Windsor, Toronto bookmaker. Alex and Donald MacDonald are brothers.

Col. Cunnington To Retire From Calgary Council

CALGARY, Oct. 31—Resignation of Col. D. G. L. Cunnington, member of parliament for Calgary West, as alderman, effective Dec. 31, was accepted with regret by Calgary's city council last night.

Col. Cunnington tendered his resignation after he was elected to the House of Commons by acclamation Sept. 25. The resignation terminated his third consecutive two-year aldermanic term 12 months ahead of time.

True Democracy

Unites 4 Million Canadians for Mutual Protection

TODAY, notwithstanding war conditions, four million Canadians face life with greater financial security and confidence, because they are banded together in the true democracy of Life Insurance. Who are these men and women? The great majority are thrifty people of modest means. They represent every walk in life—every community throughout Canada. Why have they united? Because they know that Life Insurance is the one sure way by which they can guarantee financial security for themselves and their families. Life Insurance protects the widows, the fatherless and the aged.

Why is Life Insurance a Democracy? It is the greatest voluntary co-operative enterprise Canada has ever known. It has been built by the people themselves. It is owned by them. And it is dedicated entirely to their mutual protection.

Unwelcome News

Canadians very generally will regret the intimation that Lord Tweedsmuir wishes to retire as Governor-General when his present term expires in November of next year. It is an open secret that the Government would approve his re-appointment, and ,o secret at all that the public would heartily applaud an announcement that he would remain for another term.

His Excellency and Lady Tweedsmuir have won in their own right the esteem, and something more than the esteem, of the people of Canada from coast to coast and in the far-flung reaches of the northland. They have travelled extensively, in obedience to a genuine desire to learn as much as possible about the country, and their downright sincerity has gained them friends everywhere. Not many Canadians know Canada as well as our inquisitive-minded Governor-General, and he misses no opportunity to tell the world how goodly a land it is.

No Profiteering

Ottawa announces that Canadian copper-producing concerns are completing agreements to supply Great Britain with 420,000,000 pounds of that metal within the next twelve months or so. The price, stabilized at the figure prevailing in the world market when war broke out, will run to more than $46,000,000.

This huge transaction in one basic material provides a yardstick for calculating the extent to which Britain—and France in less degree—will draw upon Canadian resources for war supplies. It hints as well the amount of labor that will be required, directly and incidentally, to produce and carry these supplies to seaboard. As one industry after another is geared up to war time rate of production, unemployment in Canada should diminish steadily and with increasing rapidity.

It will be gratifying to Canadians to note that these copper contracts are not being made on a hold-up basis, but at the price offering in world markets before the war started. The benefits to Canadian industry and productive enterprise will come because of increased output, not excessive price demands. That rule should hold all along the line in relation to the supply of Canadian products to the Allies, and the Supply Board evidently intends that it shall.

Voluntary Regulation Is Better

Some opposition is developing to Premier Hepburn's plan to bar municipal elections in Ontario for the duration of the war. On the ground that, if elections are forbidden, a community will have to put up with whatever council may get elected on January 1st next, however disappointing its management of the municipality's affairs may prove to be. The objection is sound, and is likely to gain converts as the matter is discussed.

That any of the other provincial governments will adopt the regimentation policy is improbable. It savours too much of the kind of government we are fighting overseas to be popular. That municipal elections are banned in Britain is not a valid precedent, for Britain is within bombing distance of the enemy and election meetings and polling day crowds there would provide attractive targets for Nazi airmen. Canadians, thanks to geography, are still able to assemble for political or other purposes without danger of being massacred.

The preferable course is to leave the electors their right to hold municipal elections when they think these to be necessary, leaving to their good judgment the duty of minimizing controversy, discouraging contests where there is no real need, and squelching the aspirations of any who may try to capitalize war conditions for personal aggrandizement.

"Let Them All Come"

Edmonton is no longer the pioneer town that was the terminus of a one-way movement of people. There is now, and has been for many years, an outward movement of residents, as well as an inward movement of newcomers. Hence there are now scattered along the Pacific coast, less plentifully over eastern Canada and the United States, and in various other parts of the world, some thousands of people who used to make their homes in this city.

The proposal to invite these wanderers to come back and visit the Old Home Town on the occasion of the Grads' reunion next June is a happy one. Edmonton folk would like to renew the acquaintanceships of other days, and no doubt the exiles would find the experience pleasant. They would see a larger city, a growing city, a city much improved in appearance, but essentially the same old Edmonton they knew and can surely not have forgotten.

Physically the city has not been changed beyond recognition. We have not taken the crooks out of Jasper Avenue, obliterated the jogs where streets laid out in the original surveys failed to synchronize, or otherwise drastically altered the historic topography. And the Edmonton spirit is still here. We still grouse about the weather, in the intervals between wars, elections, Grad games, hockey contests, and those mass wrestling matches which some humorist named "foot" ball. "Industry, energy, enterprise" still stands as the official city motto; backed as of yore by full-flavored western sociability.

By all means let us have an Old Home Week; with plenty of publicity in advance, in order that expatriates everywhere may hear about it in time to make plans to be among those present.

Editorial Notes

There are eight vacancies in the House of Commons. Four of the seats are to be filled at by-elections held on December 18th, the others at dates yet to be announced. In all cases it is to be supposed the political truce agreed to by the major parties will be observed, and the seats go by acclamation to the candidates of the parties by which they were formerly held.

Prof. C. A. Robb of the engineering staff at the University has been drafted for war work, and will take over the position of head of a technical division at Ottawa. The universities are losing a good many men to the military branch just now, but that is one of the penalties of war. That they are being mobilised early is evidence that our war effort is to be directed by experts. That is as it should be.

Premier Dysart announces that a general election will be held in New Brunswick on Dec. 20th. The situation is different than that which existed in Quebec, because the term of the New Brunswick legislature would expire in June of next year. An election now, the Premier thinks, will cause less interference with the carrying on of the war program than an election next spring, when plans will be more fully developed and war work more actively under way.

The Passing Show

By MAX FREEDMAN

It takes more than a war to stop a Frenchman being polite. The guns of the Siegfried Line may play the blaring chorus of their hymn of hate, but that noise cannot drown the urbane voice of French chivalry. American newsmen who have been at the front say that the French soldier is actually being polite now in two languages, and solemnly report the first major casualty of the war as being the English tongue as spoken by these Gallic heroes.

COURTESY LINGERS ON

The war indeed has put politeness into a time-table and made courtesy a military habit. Round the walls of an officers' mess in the battle zone is a list of fines which all soldiers must observe. If anyone smokes a cigar without offering cigars to others he is at once liable to a fine of ten francs. For spilling a glass of white wine or beer he must forfeit four francs, and the same sum for coming to table five minutes after the meal has begun. And the precedence of rank is rigidly followed even while the meal is in progress. Should anyone take a glass of wine too much and venture to light a cigarette before the chairman has done so, he will pay for his presumption to the extent of two francs.

Just to make sure that these penalties will be paid without murmur or vexation of heart, the schedule provides that every protest will cost the one making it an additional two francs. The only thing now worrying visiting reporters is how many French soldiers will return home from the front not simply saviours of freedom but also bankers in spirit and profession. It pays to be polite when you are in the French army.

How many of these advertisements written by some of the great men of English and American literature can you recognize? They are run here in the form in which they originally appeared, thanks to the patient skill of Christopher Morley, well-known essayist, who has rescued them from the yellow shrouds of aged newspapers in which their spirit has been embalmed. For your guidance, the authors of the following items, which once stood in the personal columns of papers published in the days of long ago, are all men and their names were almost household words. But you may consider yourself an expert student of literature if you can guess more than one of the five famous personals with ease.

A GUESSING CONTEST

First. "Lowland Scot, in difficult romantic entanglement, would escape unwelcome responsibility. Desires accommodation in packet for Philadelphia or West Indies. Offers unpublished manuscript of Waverley."

Second. "Wigmaker. Huguenot exile, will accept lodgers and also give lessons in French. Terms reasonable; special rates to theatrical profession. Fine chance for baldheaded client."

Third. "Parson, Anglican, amused by his success as author of work of indecision, now proposes public 2 volumes of sermons to vindicate his piety. Address Crazy Castle."

Fourth. "Irishman, philosophic vagabond on Continent for scientific and literary studies, requires pupil as companion to travel with at his expenses. Present assets, one clean shirt, one flute, one guinea. Will instruct in languages, medicine, music, good humour. Post Restante, Geneva."

Lastly, "Lodgings needed within Sanctuary limits, viz., where creditors cannot apply. Must have large bathtub, not for ablution but as receptacle for papers. Send message to O. E."

Have you guessed them? The authors, in order, are Robert Louis Stevenson, Christopher Morley, Shakespeare's famous landlord, Laurence Sterne of "Tristram Shandy" renown, Oliver Goldsmith, and Thomas de Quincey.

THE WAR MINISTER

Leslie Hore-Belisha, the 41-year-old minister of war in Britain, must laugh whenever he sees the motto on the wall of Sir John Simon, the residence at 11 Downing Street which says: "To escape criticism, say nothing, do nothing, be nothing." The great advocate certainly did not lay the basis of his reputation by that advice, though it is best now to keep a tactful silence on how he fulfilled the rest of the admonition. But Hore-Belisha is a success because of his frank and proud defiance of this dictum. He has made more epigrams than friends in his precipitate dash to fame and power, even though the 7,000 pounds gathered by his Devenport followers to build Belisha Hall in his honor is a tribute which no other living member of parliament has obtained. He stopped motorists blowing their horns at night, but his enemies say he has exercised no similar restraint in sounding his own trumpet.

Hore-Belisha has brought the spirit of the Oxford Debating Union to the start of that sphere of the House of Commons. When president of that famous nursery of statesmen he told an applauding assembly one day that when he sat on the treasury benches of the government the lost art of oratory would gain flower into the pattern of graceful and fiery speech. Like Disraeli, he has become a power in the land because he knows words rule the world and he is a master of striking, vivid, bewitching speech.

At the age of twenty-five he already was in parliament. Impudent and aggressive, he badgered cabinet members with saucy but searching questions which showed that he was out out for the strange life of a parliamentary debater. The ruling fame of Lloyd George progressed to be his guiding hope, as did the suave caution of Sir Herbert Samuel, and he finally found his peace, after strange migrations of spirit, on the government bench beside Mr. Chamberlain of the unsolved mysteries of the art of politics why the prime minister, the exact antithesis of the war secretary should put so much trust in his impulsive colleague.

The answer seems to be that Hore-Belisha knows his job well and does it even better. He stopped his clowning when he became war minister, except for one or two instances, notably on his trip to Rome, when he continued to play to the gallery. His great achievement, and the one on which his place in history will rest, was the vigor he showed in sweeping the war office clear of men who had seen their best service and replacing them by soldiers of greater promise. Red tape withers when Hore-Belisha approaches. His anxiety to permeate the army with the democratic spirit is again seen in his recent ruling that commissions are to be granted to those serving in the ranks, and not only to those wearing the school tie.

This war demands courage, the spirit of improvisation, the genius for sudden change, the sails of youth as well as the anchor of age. Hore-Belisha can be trusted to make his contribution to the common cause.

"To what do you attribute your great age?" asked the city visitor of Grandpa Elben Hoskins.

"I can't say, yit," said Grandpa cautiously, "there's several of them testimonial fellers a-dickerin' with me."

Current Comment

The Business Trend

In August, the last month prior to the outbreak of war, the improvement in business conditions continued in both Canada and the United States. Though complete statistics are not available for September, there is already evidence—notably in the weekly carloadings figures for Canada and a variety of business indices for the United States —that a further and more marked upturn occurred.

The gains in industrial production and in employment during August reflected a fairly broad improvement in the manufacturing industries of both countries. Greater activity in the iron and steel industries were notable factors in the increases, but textiles, foodstuffs and other consumers' goods trades contributed. Indicative of the extent of the September rise is the preliminary figure for industrial output in the United States, which is nearly 8% higher than in August. No comparable Canadian estimates are yet available.

In Canada, the sharp increase in carloadings during August has been followed by a larger (13%) gain in September. The large grain crop accounts for much of the expansion but there has been an encouraging improvement in other classifications. In the United States the August gain was smaller than in Canada but is somewhat better it was even larger, amounting to 20%. —The Bank of Nova Scotia.

Carrots, Please

There is no doubt about it: the diet experts are meddling too much with human liberty, and just when we need all of it we can get.

I see where Hoover has had no tact. Indeed, there must be a streak of sadism in them. They are continually finding out horrible things about food, and there is no end to their pontificating. If you are going to do something strenuous, they declared not long ago, eat a lot of jelly before you do it—jelly! And now comes Miss May Foley, Massachusetts State college nutritionist, a title that you can't very well ignore, to say that before you go for that evening spin in your car you should eat a couple of carrots for safety.

Here is the explanation: Carrots contain vitamin A, which prevents night blindness. "A person whose vision in dim light is impaired, due to lack of vitamin A," says Miss Foley, "can eat a serving of carrots before he goes out driving in the evening and be assured that his vision will be better."

Note the ring of authority. It is typical. Here a whole generation has been brought up on the theory that carrots make the hair curl, and no sooner do they free themselves from this yoke with a hearty iconoclasm than the carrots are thrown right back in their faces with a scientific leer. And, frankly, we think it is unfair to carrots.

We believe carrots are good in their own way, but compulsion and food don't mix. There was something rather appealing in the old-fashioned deceptiveness about fish giving you brain power, onions assistance against colds, and spinach muscular might. There is something cold and objectionable about the modern substitutes that are probably—and that is what really annoys us—true.

It is hard, very hard, to picture the scenes ahead of us if the Foley type of advice is strictly adhered to.

"Give me my carrots, dear, I'm going out for a short spin in the country."—Hamilton Spectator.

On This Date

By FRED WILLIAMS

Sixty years ago today there died at Barrie one of the most remarkable characters in Canadian history, John Montgomery, who figured so largely in all stories of the "Mackenzie rebellion" of 1837.

Who was John Montgomery? He was born at Gagetown, New Brunswick, in 1782, the son of a Loyalist. When he was 16, Montgomery, Sr., decided to remove to Upper Canada, and so the family started on the long journey through the wilderness, up the St. Lawrence and Lake Ontario to the town of York, then very much in its infancy. The father took up land "up Yonge Street," 240 acres, and the family prospered. John grew to be a big man, a loyal subject of his sovereign, a member of the historic York Volunteers under the command of Sheaffe at Queenston in 1812, one of the defenders of York in 1813, and later active in civic needs and financial enterprises. Before building his historic tavern "up Yonge Street," he had a farmers' hotel down town.

MY FRIENDS IN KASHGAR

Especially since war has visited China, I find my thoughts turning often to far-distant Kashgar, in Chinese Turkestan. Years ago, at Damascus, I used a foreign correspondent's influence to send a carload of Kashgar pilgrims down to Medina and Mecca. With much shedding of beards, the old men promised to pray for me at Mecca.

Colonel T. E. Lawrence told me that the incident would be retold in the mosques of Kashgar for generations to come.

I want to go to Kashgar, and I want to meet the survivors of our hectic experience in Damascus. Moreover, I would like to meet up with all the friends in widely scattered places with whom I have shared life.

Someday I shall; and then, in heaven's completeness, I shall see all the fragments of experience as one whole.

We look toward the promised bliss of heaven, our Master, as a time of reunion and revelation, when we shall "know fully." We thank Thee for this reward at the end of the road. Amen.

Read Revelation 10:1-7.

"Go over and amuse your mother—if she has too much time to just think, it means trouble for you or me or both of us!"

Your Health — By Dr. Frank McCoy

As discomfort from excessive gas is such a common symptom, I am sure that many readers will find an explanation of some of the common causes of this symptom of great interest. The following list covers the usual causes.

First: Imperfectly balanced digestive juices. When the stomach throws out too much acid, considerable gas may be formed when the stomach secretion comes in contact with the alkaline bile. A small amount of gas or air in the stomach appears to be normal and it is only when the digestive ferments are not adjusted to each other that an excessive amount of stomach gas is formed.

Second: Over-eating of even the best food is likely to be accompanied by the formation of too much gas.

Third: Wrong combinations of food will cause excessive fermentation. For example, the combining of acid fruit with starch will often cause trouble.

Fourth: Using foods which are notorious for producing flatulence, such as onions, garlic, cabbage and dried beans.

Fifth: Excesses of sugar and starch, the foods which ferment the most readily are the sugars and starches, and one who is troubled with flatulence should eat sparingly of anything made by combining cereals and sugar. I find this is an important point to impress upon the patient.

Sixth: Eating too fast. When a person eats rapidly, with the result that starchy food is not properly mixed with saliva, starch indigestion will result, causing gas to form in the small intestine.

Eighth: Swallowing air with food, or while belching.

Ninth: Drinking too much liquid with meals may produce additional gas because an excessive amount of gastric juice is needed to overcome the diluting effect of the liquid.

Tenth: Eating too often. This will keep the stomach overloaded and will make the formation of gas more probable.

Eleventh: Eating indigestible foods. Foods which are known to disagree should be omitted.

At the beginning of any home regimen to banish flatulence I suggest that the patient use a short fast. Afterward, a sensibly planned diet should be followed. It is important that the patient stick to the diet as suggested, as any deviations may spoil a meal which would otherwise be digested perfectly.

Dr. Frank McCoy's great book, "The Fast Way to Health," gives you the mechanics of health in plain, easily understandable language.

A limited supply is on hand at The Bulletin. A copy will be mailed postpaid on receipt of $1.00. Just address The Bulletin.

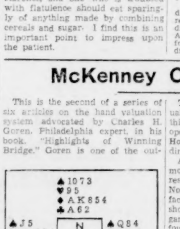
McKenney On Bridge

This is the second of a series of six articles on the hand valuation system advocated by Charles H. Goren, Philadelphia expert, in his book, "Highlights of Winning Bridge." Goren is one of the outstanding players of the country, the number one top-ranking player for the 1938-39 season of national championship play.

The first rule of the simple valuation system devised by Goren is to count an opening bid from an opening bid usually produces game. However this rule governs the bidding as shown in today's hand.



Duplicate—None vul.

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	5 ♦	Pass
Opening—♣ J.			30

After North's bid of two diamonds, South makes a minimum response by rebidding his spades. North holds an opening bid in the face of South's opening bid, and should therefore resolve to go to game if a convenient "spot" can be found. The spades are playable, in view of South's rebid of the suit; hence North goes the limit to four spades, as South would surely pass a bid of three spades.

The opening lead is won by the ebo king. South cashes the ace and king of diamonds, ruffing the third round. The ace of clubs gives necessary to establish the last two long diamonds, on which South discards first a club and then a heart. It does not matter which East takes his queen of trumps; the defense wins only three tricks.

It may be argued that declarer is lucky in the 3-3 diamond break, but remember that few opening bids are so lacking in plus values as the South hand shows.

Sunshine Shafts

A city teacher came upon the following "howler" while correcting exercise-book recently:

"Tedium is what the choir sings in church."

Ma—I can't tell whether Ezzy is dead or only sleeping.

Pa—Well, make the alarm clock go off and if he wakes up it'll prove he's dead. He never would wake up when he was alive.

"Papa, I betcha I know why mosquitos bite you more than they do other people."

"Why, my child?"

"Because if you have high blood pressure like the doctor says you have, they don't have to stick so hard."

He: "Miss Elizabeth, do you not think that marriages are made in heaven?"

She: "They certainly must be if all men take as long to propose as you."

A Chinese laundryman had an addition to the family the day Lindbergh landed in Paris. Some of his friends wanted him to name the boy after Lindbergh.

"No, no," said the proud father. "That no good Chinese name. I tellee you what I call him—'One Long Hop.'"

PROVINCIAL BRIEFS

BOWDEN

Red Cross Society Will Be Organized In Bowden District

A public meeting was held in the Legion Hall at Bowden last week for the purpose of forming a Red Cross Society or Service League in this district. Mrs. W. P. Graham, president of the Innisfail branch of the Red Cross, addressed the gathering.

A committee, comprised of Mrs. E. Harris, Mrs. P. McNab and N. C. Elliott, was appointed to carry on organization work and to call a meeting in the near future. Owing to blocked roads, the attendance at the meeting was very small.

Annual chicken supper and concert of the United Church Ladies' Aid was held late last week with a large crowd attending. Rev. F. Chapman presided as chairman of the concert. Supper was served in the Legion hall.

KELSEY

Under the joint sponsorship of the curling club, hockey club, rink association and physical training class, a successful carnival was staged at Kelsey last week. Queen of the carnival was Miss Elizabeth Findlay who sold the grand total of 540 tickets to beat Miss Irene Anderson and Miss Katie Kosdroski.

In the raffle, a radio was won by Frank Dunn of Tofield, while other prizes went to Mr. Good of Holden and Mrs. Tawdberg and Mrs. Lillo of Ryley.

ROSALIND

A capacity crowd attended the chicken supper sponsored by the Greenview W.A. in the Rosalind hall last week. The supper was followed by a concert and program of recreation. Rev. Rogers of Daysland presided.

Taking part in the concert were members of the Girl Guides Iris Stumph, Viola Benz, Doris and Marian Ashley, June and Peggy Wiseman, and Fern Leibling; Mrs. Stanley Gould and Rev. Rogers.

Raymond Rasmussen, Allen Olsen, Irvin Eshpeter and Mrs. James Kennedy were recent visitors to Edmonton.

Mrs. Earl King left last Friday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Joe Harper, in Los Angeles.

Joe Chrebet has left for Kelsey to take over his new position with the section gang there. He had been stationed at Rosalind for some time.

SYLVAN LAKE

Mrs. A. F. Cobb has donated the use of the office building in the south east of the new Cobb Block for the use of the Red Cross society.

The Sylvan Lake war veterans will hold a remembrance service on November 11 in conjunction with Red Deer veterans.

Mrs. Charles Weston and family have left to reside in Edmonton.

Mrs. J. W. Thompson has returned to Manitoba after visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Brown of Sylvan Lake.

The Sylvan Lake curling club will hold a general meeting Wednesday.

The Reliance meat market operated by N. Lindsay has been sold to the proprietor of the farmers meat market. Mr. Lindsay is joining the colors.

GLENDON

Three Nominated For School Trustee Bonnyville Area

Three candidates have been nominated for school trustee for subdivision 2 of the Bonnyville Large School division. They are H. Robson of Rife and Bill Kryzanowski and Ledic Krawchik of Glendon.

Annual meeting of Zone 4, St Paul provincial constituency Social Credit League, was held in the Glendon community hall last week, when Harvey R. Howatt of Maley was elected zone organizer and Earl H. Hodges of Glendon, secretary. Speakers were J. W. Beaudry, K.C., M.L.A., for St. Paul and John Talaska of Therien. Misses Anne Bahry and Eva Sadownik of Glendon entertained with musical numbers.

WILDWOOD

Wildwood Guides Stage Successful Bazaar and Tea

Despite heavy snows and slippery streets, Wildwood citizens turned out in good numbers to the bazaar and tea sponsored by the Girl Guides recently. The Guides realized more than $11 from the tea and sale.

Guides taking part were Mrs. Roger Johnston, captain; Miss Edith E. Walls, lieutenant; and Misses Maria and Angela Aubert, Miss Mary Kulyn, Miss Lila Tindal, Miss Thelma Van Schaak, Miss Ellen Browne, Miss Beverly Browne, Miss Mary Margach, Miss Louise Akers, Miss Cora Williamson, Miss Dorothy Carlson and Miss Lillian Carlson.

Mrs. John Gebenus has returned to Vancouver after spending several weeks with friends here.

Mr. Sidine and Mr. Berg and their families have returned from Chilliwak, B.C., and will begin farming here.

INNISFAIL

The Rt. Reverend Ralph Sherman, bishop of Calgary, held confirmation services in the local Anglican church Sunday evening when some ten new members were admitted to the church.

RIMBEY

Mr. N. Rushton, assistant deputy minister of municipal affairs, spoke to 40 representatives of Last Waters municipal district at a meeting called by the department and held in the Lavesta school house, 16 miles northeast of Rimbey on Saturday afternoon, October 28. Mr. Rushton explained results of changing the municipal district to a local improvement area, a matter which will be settled on November 4 by a plebescite.

LACOMBE

Entries are already coming in for Lacombe's annual amateur contest, which is staged each year by the local branch of the Canadian Legion. This year the event will be held in the Central Alberta pavilion on November 10 and Secretary Gordon Rusk of the Legion is making plans to handle another capacity crowd.

Icemaker Chub Irish has started flooding operations at the Lacombe Curling Club's rink in anticipation of the curling season. Last week President M. G. Cruickshank and thirty club members held a work "bee," when all interior fixtures in the rink were repaired and painted.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE

Only a few days after recovering their tools from a gas blow-in, drillers working at the Home Brazeau Oils, 80 miles west of Mountain House, had their operations brought to a standstill by a second blow-in. This time force of the gas was so strong, that cable, drill and everything in the path of the gas was lifted 50 feet into the air and the derrick was badly damaged. Work will not be resumed for more than a week.

Reports indicate that there is a heavier flow of gas in the area than any yet struck in Alberta and drillers report oil as well as gas.

German Shepherd dog owned and trained by Sgt. J. N. Caway, R.C.M.P., Calgary, for police work, who has been retired at his master's home. Dale is one of the few dogs recruited for police duties and among his many accomplishments is the tracking of criminals and the rescuing of lost persons.

OIL OFFICIAL PRAISES GAS CONSERVATION

Consolidation Of Wells Is Said To Assure Calgary Supply

CALGARY, Oct. 31—R. V. Lesueur, vice-president of Imperial Oil, Limited, Monday praised conservation methods carried out in Turner Valley and estimated, at the McGillivray Royal Commission, that the field's natural gas supply was sufficient to meet Calgary's needs for at least 30 years.

Assurance of a supply for Calgary's gas users was due largely to his firm's action in consolidating the gas wells in the gas area, capping many wells that had been dissipating gas, he said.

"In the Turner Valley field conservation has served a useful and beneficial purpose," the Toronto oil executive said. "Development of Turner Valley could not have proceeded in as orderly a method without the proration arising from conservation."

Mr. Lesueur also commended discussions between the Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board of Alberta and oil operators before issuance of board orders and regulations. Such close co-operation between government and the industry would produce better results in future development of the field, he added.

Dr. John W. Frey, United States marketing expert, urged establishment of a petroleum industry code in Alberta. A code formulated by the industry and acceptable to the provincial government could be valuable, he said.

Two Men Killed In Plane Crash

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 31—Two men, identified as H. Kilman, Greenville, Tex., and C. H. Goodwin, Jr., 24 Stephenville, Tex., were killed Monday in the crash of an army training plane. Kilman was described as a civilian instructor for a basic army training school here and Goodwin as a student flyer.

Fashion Parade Ending Provided Revised Shavian Play By Outbreak of War

By TED FARAH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Oct. 31—The smash ending provided by the second great war for George Bernard Shaw's 50th play was unveiled here last night as the North American premiere of "Geneva."

Written originally for the Malvern drama festival of 1938 and performed afterward for seven months in London, the play was revised by Shaw for the British company headed by Maurice Colbourne and Barry Jones immediately before they sailed for Canada with the war in progress.

In its pre-war form, "Geneva" ended inconclusively and rather quietly, on a conversational note.

STEPS UP INTENSITY

In the new version, the announcement of the declaration of war coming toward the end of the third act, with characters representing Hitler, Mussolini, General Franco, a British foreign secretary and a Russian commissar present in a court of international justice, steps up intensity of the play to a grisly climax.

Battler, the prototype of the Nazi fuehrer, shouts in his hysterical voice: Mussolini (Colbourne (Mussolini): "The war for the mastery of the world has begun."

A German soldier, in trench helmet, who earlier had carried Battler's swastika crown, re-enters and presents him with a human skull.

"Geneva" is fantasy on Europe's political chaos in which Shaw will alternate icy lucidity and pyrotechnic wit presents his theala that "man is a failure as a political animal."

BLUNDERS COMPLICATE

Act one is in the office of the International Institute for Intellectual Co-operation of the League of Nations, a little-known office which actually exists. A series of secretarial blunders by a charmingly Shavian character named Begonia Brown creates international complications which assemble the dictators and representatives of Europe's major powers, with the exception of France, in a Hague palace court of justice. There ensue European troubles, including the Jewish question and the Spanish civil war, are argued in Shaw's terms.

When General Franco's prototype declines to offer his aid to Battler on the outbreak of war, he declares in derision: "I shall win victory equally to the aid of Signor Bombardone and to the masterly non-intervention policy of Sir Orpheus Midlander" (British foreign secretary).

The production is well-mounted and excellently performed throughout. Credit must be given Maurice Colbourne for his vivid job as Battler. His makeup in the Canadian version is better than in England. The Lord Chamberlain in London would permit no moustache on Battler for diplomatic reasons. In Toronto, Colbourne wore a moustache just like Hitler's.

MINER IS KILLED BY FALLING ROCK AT GOLDFIELDS

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

GOLDFIELDS, Sask., Oct. 31—Andy Fraser, 23, formerly of Beaverdell, Sask., was instantly killed by a fall of loose rock in a grizzly chamber 300 feet below the level of the Box mine Friday afternoon. Fraser was operating a stoper, drilling huge slabs of broken ore from the grizzly, when the rock above him caved. As it came down, he shouted to his partner, Murray McDonald, who jumped clear. Fraser's head and chest were crushed and his legs broken.

He came north in April, 1938, and was employed at the Hydro. He went to the Box mine two months ago when the Hydro was completed. This is the first fatal accident to occur in the mine. Fraser is survived by his parents, near Beaverdell, a brother, Dougald, who is a guard at the penitentiary at Prince Albert, and a married sister. Burial took place Sunday at Beaverlodge.

McNaughton Says Present Conflict Crusade, Not War

OTTAWA, Oct. 31—Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the first Canadian overseas division, said here that he can see in the faces of men and feel in their presence that the present war is no meaningless conflict.

Speaking briefly to the annual dinner of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, General McNaughton said he termed the present conflict a "crusade." in preference to a war.

Many Offers Of Service Received

OTTAWA, Oct. 31—More than 10,000 offers of service have been received by the Voluntary Service Registration Board and referred to the national defence department. There were 5,850 offers from officers or persons with previous service as officers, and 4,500 from men who were prepared to serve in non-commissioned capacity. Those offers did not include the thousands of men who enlisted or tried to enlist.

MADRAS, India, Oct. 31—Acceptance of the resignation tendered last Friday by the Congress party government of Madras was announced today by Premier C. Rajagopala-Charier.

NEW POWERS EXTENDED TO SUGAR BOARD

Control Of Imports and Exports Is Given To Administrator

OTTAWA, Oct. 31—The wartime prices and trade board, under chairman Hector McKinnon, announced last night the powers of its sugar administrator, S. R. Noble of Montreal, have been extended in relation to the control of imports and exports of sugar.

The extension was made by the governor in council in order to clarify out the co-ordinated buying scheme entered into with the United Kingdom sugar control board.

MAY BUY AND SELL

Under the new regulations, the prices and trade board, acting through the agency of the sugar administrator, is given power to buy sugar from the U.K. sugar controller and power to sell to refiners and others in Canada.

The order further confers on the sugar administrator full control of imports and exports of sugar in Canada. No other person may import or export sugar except under permit from the sugar administrator. This, however, is not to be interpreted as including maple sugar, the announcement said.

The sugar agreement between Canada and the United Kingdom provides for the bulk purchase by the U.K. sugar controller of all sugar required by both the United Kingdom and Canada.

ASSURED OF SUPPLIES

The U.K. sugar controller will resell at cost to the Canadian sugar administrator, who will in turn sell to refiners.

Through this scheme each refiner is assured of regular supplies at equated and stabilized costs and as a consequence the consumer is guaranteed a normal flow of supplies at the lowest possible price, the announcement stated.

CANADIAN TO CONTEST SEAT BRITISH HOUSE

CHESTER, England, Oct. 31—Garfield Weston, Toronto, Canadian chairman and managing director of allied bakeries controlling 38 United Kingdom plants, has been selected to contest the Macclesfield by-election as official Conservative candidate.

Agreement between the parliamentary parties on the wartime necessity of returning candidates unopposed will probably result in Mr. Weston's election by acclamation on nomination day Dec. 1.

The Conservative organization chose him to succeed J. B. Remer, holder of this Tory stronghold for the last 21 years, who is retiring by applying for the "Chiltern hundreds."

It was in a neighboring constituency — Ashton-under-Lyne — that another Canadian, Lord Beaverbrook, fought his first election as Max Aitken in 1910.

Mr. Weston, who is 41, is the father of eight children. He served with the Canadian engineers overseas during the first Great War and after the armistice entered his father's business, George Weston Limited, Toronto biscuit manufacturers, becoming president and general manager in 1924.

Bishop Declares Canada's North Needs Attention

MIDLAND, Ont., Oct. 31—Canada must pay greater attention to the development of its northland, the Midland Kiwanis club was told Monday by Bishop A. H. Sovereign, the Anglican diocese of Athabasca.

The wealth of Canada's sub-arctic regions is just becoming fully realized, Bishop Sovereign said, and Russia is paying close attention to it. He declared there was no reason for Canada to have a "dog-in-the-manger" attitude toward the north.

Parity Of Prices Asked By Ontario Agriculture Body

HAMILTON, Oct. 31—The Ontario Chamber of Agriculture called upon the Dominion government in a resolution Monday to establish parity of prices between agriculture and other contributing industries" to enable farmers to share fully in Canada's war effort.

The chamber also urged that organized agriculture be consulted in regard to formation of a wartime program for agriculture.

Searching Party Hunts Young Girl

NEW LISKEARD, Ont., Oct. 31—Police and a large searching party Monday pressed their search for 18-year-old Leonna Pwain, lost in the bush near Indian Shutes, about 90 miles west of New Liskeard. The girl had been missing since Oct. 25.

Phyllis Hoare Is Bride Of Mr. Fred Hart

SOLEMNIZED quietly in St. Joseph's rectory, 113 street, a wedding of wide interest in Edmonton and Pincher Creek took place on Monday morning, when Miss Phyllis Lois Hoare, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hoare of Pincher Creek became the bride of Frederick Ernest Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hart of Edmonton. The marriage was performed by Rev. E. Q. Jennings.

FORMER NURSE

The bride was formerly a member of the nursing staff of the University Hospital. For the occasion of her wedding, she was gowned in an attractive afternoon frock of comet blue crepe, with burgundy accessories, and a corsage of crimson roses.

Miss Margaret Hoare was bridesmaid for her twin sister, and chose a black chiffon velvet frock with a shoulder corsage of talisman roses. Mr. John Hart attended his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hart, 123 street, where members of the family and immediate friends extended their best wishes to the bridal couple. For the occasion of her son's marriage Mrs. Hart chose an afternoon frock of Watteau blue crepe.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart left on a motor trip to southern Alberta. On their return, they will make their home in the Buena Vista Apartments. For travelling, Mrs. Hart chose a sheer wool frock in burgundy tone, with matching topcoat.

Edith Anderson Is Married In Donalda

Claiming the interest of many friends in the Donalda district is the recent marriage of Edith Mae Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Anderson and Lyle FitzPatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. FitzPatrick. Solemnized at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, the marriage service was read by Rev. John Wright.

For her wedding the bride chose a graceful frock in deep green triple sheer with shirred bodice and bustle skirt. Her flowers were pink and white carnations in corsage.

Miss Aleta Vikse attended the bride, wearing for the occasion a plum colored dress with trimming in gold. She wore a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Mr. Roy FitzPatrick, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Following the ceremony a buffet supper was arranged for 20 guests. Pink and white tapers and streamers were used on the bride's table, which was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake.

On their return from a honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. FitzPatrick will reside in Donalda.

Her Majesty To Broadcast November 11

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth, will broadcast a message to the women of the Empire on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, it was officially announced today. This will be the first broadcast by the Queen since Her Majesty bade farewell to Canada last summer.

The exact time was not stated, but it is understood it will be a five-minute broadcast starting at 9 p.m. British summer time (1 p.m. M.S.T.). The British Broadcasting Corporation home and empire services are to carry the speech.

The Queen's voice has been heard many times, both before and since she became Queen Consort, being her twelfth broadcast. Her first as Queen was in September, 1939, when she inaugurated the steamship Queen Elizabeth at Clydebank.

Because of the war there will be no Armistice Day ceremony this year at the cenotaph on Whitehall.

Frenchwomen Combine Role Of Defenders, Homemakers And Earners Today

By GLADYS M. ARNOLD

THE news out of France these days is mostly concerned with our British "Tommies" and the "Little Blues" (as the French troops are familiarly known because of their pale blue uniforms) holding the Maginot Line.

Yet there is another line of defence being held in France, just as it is in England—that held by the women.

What are these women like? How do and how will they play their part in the struggle?

Today practically every girl outside the peasant classes, who work also very hard on the farms, is prepared to enter commercial or professional life. The spinster has largely replaced a "dowry" in the middle classes. This is the reason that France, for her population, has a greater number of married women working than any other country in the world. The reason also that there is no prejudice against her working and the fact that in official life, the civil service, teaching, etc., she receives equal pay for her work, and has special holiday privileges as a mother.

She works because for ever-increasing classes of business and professional people, two salaries are necessary to be able to finance a home and generally for one or two children. As soon as possible she gives up working, for the French woman is first, last, and always, a home-maker and a devoted mother.

Her education has been one of home-making for centuries and she believes it because she loves it, and it suits her temperament.

ANOTHER REASON

There is another reason why women in France have made themselves self-sufficient. That is their ever-present fear and probability that she must one day become the sole breadwinner of the family. One old lady who is now witnessing a third war with Germany within her own lifetime, said to me, "Why do we spoil our sons and cling to our daughters?" Because, my own family will serve as an example. I lost my father and husband in the war of 1870; my sons and nephews in the war of 1914-18, and now I see my grandsons again at the front. We have them so short a time, and we know that it is upon our daughters that we must depend for company, and perhaps sustenance."

No woman works harder than the French woman. She supervises her home, the education of her children, as well as carrying on the job. Her mother is usually in the home while she is at work, but the moment she enters she takes charge. There are the children's lessons to be heard (I've never seen one mother fail to do this). The accounts of the family, and the business; transformation of hats and clothing; cooking and marketing for the whole family.

NOT A CLUB MEMBER

She belongs to no clubs, she does not play golf or bridge, and she has little social life outside the "family" and a very restricted circle of friends, because she hasn't time. When she is free she devotes every minute to cultural activities, art, music, theatre and literature.

The French woman doesn't vote, nor is she, in the majority, very ambitious to. She has never rights and liberties than the Canadian woman, and yet she proved during the last war that she is capable of handling any task entrusted to her.

With her close-to-home background and devotion to the family circle, war comes as a shattering blow, yet she faces it courageously.

She has not had the club training, the experience of working in groups with women, or part in the public life of the nation which has emancipated her English and Canadian sisters.

The women of France are ready, and have stepped into the shoes of their husbands or sons at the front. They have organized and volunteered for passive defence. They have been very wise in their every way, discovering and knowing for months now, where they were going to hide their children to be safe. They are protecting family life as far as possible.

ECONOMICAL

It has been said that the French woman is "right". This is no more true of her than it is of the Scotch, they understand economy because they have had little to spend, but they know how to make a little go a long way and they will find, in the days ahead, a way to keep their children strong and healthy in spite of rationing. The water which has boiled the vegetables at noon, serves as the basis of soup in the evening.

Since last September (1938) they have thrown themselves into passive defence. Thousands of little shopgirls who work long hours, have bolted a bite and then rushed off to evening first aid classes. No one asked them to, but they knew instinctively that they must know. Teachers have trained themselves, and then taught their pupils how to take care of themselves in the many dangers way might bring.

If the privacy of the English home is a tradition, it is perhaps doubly so in France, yet every village every town, every farmhouse has now been organized for more than a year, the number of rooms that could be spared in each dwelling, the expectation that once again one's home will be filled with strangers, refugees.

The second line of defence, that which makes for the morale in the front line, is being held with high and selfless courage. These women put hands gladly with no arrogance the seas.

DAN CUPID IS BUSY IN FIRST MONTH OF WAR

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—Cupid and his bow and arrow did a land office business during the first month of the war, the Dominion bureau of statistics disclosed Monday.

"The first month of war quite evidently plunged many Canadian young people into the sea of matrimony in advance of their original intentions," said the bureau. "During September the number of marriages throughout Canada was 7,066, which was 68% per cent. more than the September total a year ago."

Births registered in 66 cities and towns having populations of 10,000 or more, numbered 7,458 in September. Deaths were 3,953. In September, 1938, births were 7,226, deaths 4,016, and marriages 4,729.

Many Talents Are Revealed In City V.R.C.W. Survey

Women who received war-work training during the last Great War, and fledglings eager to learn useful wartime trades are incensing the steady stream of registrations being submitted to the Edmonton section of the Voluntary Registration of Canadian women organizations.

Convener of the West End division, Mrs. Kenneth Montgomery reports that registrations for her division alone are well in excess of 1,000. Among those who have volunteered their services are women who have given their services in munition factories, in nursing establishments and in the women's auxiliary of the air-raid battery during the last war.

Others who are eager to assist report of training in canning, darning and knitting, and a "surprisingly large group" have offered to take refugees into their homes.

Mrs. Muttart Is President Music Club

MRS. M. D. MUTTART was asked to assume duties of president of the Harpsichord Club for the coming year at the first fall meeting of the club arranged one evening recently at the home of Mrs. William Broderick. Have Hair Done Before Selecting New Chapeau

By ALICIA HART

"Hats and coiffures are really married this season," says one of Fifth Avenue's smartest modistes. "One can't be at its best unless the other is.

"The chic woman has her hair done immediately before buying a hat. She wouldn't dream of reversing the procedure and making a choice, thinking "this will be fine when my hair is done;" the expert continues. "She knows that a hat which may be perfectly flattering atop a smooth crown, fringed by softly coiled ends, might look like nothing at all when those ends are uncurled."

To wear under one of the new, deep-crowned, dressy hats which frame the face and hide every bit of hair except possibly the widow's peak, some version of an upswept coiffure is suitable. The hair must be brushed upward all the way around with rolls or curls on top instead of half way up where they might mar the smooth line of the sides of the hat.

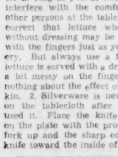
With a cloche (newly important in the millinery picture) a hair style which is up in front and down in back is recommended. Also, if you like bangs or a low roll over the forehead, the cloche probably is the answer to your bonnet problems.

LONG BOBS POOR WITH TINY SLIPPERS

With tiny, dressy hats, veiled or not, hair may be worn high or in a soft, fairly short bob. Generally speaking, diminutive bonnets are not lovely atop very long bobs.

By all means, ask the hairdresser who waves your shining locks to teach you how to comb it after removing a hat. If you can't seem to learn how, the coiffure probably is too elaborate, anyway. There's not much art in choosing a hairstyle which nobody except the hairdresser possibly can manage.

What To Do



Please tell me if there is a correct way to eat lettuce? I have been under the impression that lettuce may be eaten with the fingers when there is no dressing whatsoever. Am I correct? (2) When eating, what should be done with the silver? Should the knife be laid across the plate or should it be laid on the table? Thank you.

MRS. M. H. H.

Answer—Just how you eat various foods is not so important a matter as long as you do not offend or interfere with the comfort of the other persons at the table. You are correct that lettuce when served without dressing may be picked up with the fingers just as you eat celery. But always use a fork when lettuce is served with a dressing. It's a bit messy on the fingers, to say nothing about the effect on the napkin. 2. Silverware is never placed on the tablecloth after you have used it. Place the knife and fork on the plate with the prongs of the fork up and the sharp edge of the knife toward the inside of the plate.

SOFT CHARM For the Matron

To flatter the larger woman's figure and to prove that she, too, may be chic in today's styles, we designed this dress. The blouse fullness minimizes the bust and softens your silhouette. The skirt is adequately full, yet slim of line to give you a tall slender appearance. Very becoming to your face is the fresh and unusual white collar. This is the all-occasion dress that's right for any time of day; it's neither too casual nor over-formal. Make it of a soft sheer wool or a colorful silk or crepe; the pattern takes equally well to all three.

Style No. 2924 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 requires 4 yards of 39-inch material, ½ yard of 39-inch contrasting.

Send 15 cents in coins for pattern. Write plainly your Name, Address and Style Number. Be sure to state Size you wish.

Address order to The Edmonton Bulletin, Pattern Department, Edmonton, Alberta.

HORSESHOE BOUQUET

CHIPPENHAM.—No conventional wedding bouquet for Miss Hilary Godwin, daughter of the chairman of the Chippenham branch of the National Farmers' Union—she carried instead a silvered horseshoe from her hunter.

Dorothy Dix Says:

Dear Dorothy Dix—My husband has become one of the leaders in his union. That is all right by me, but down there he has been hearing a lot about "economics" and he comes home and tells me that I don't know anything about financing and economics, and it makes me mad. Maybe I don't. They are just fancy words to me, but I'm the woman who takes his and her husband gives her and pays the bills. And after bringing up three children, putting them through school, worrying how to make ends meet and how to save 50 cents out of the grocery money to buy enough gingham to make a dress, and doing and keeping everybody fed and clothed through layoffs and strikes, he can't talk to me about economizing anything about economics. When he comes home from these meetings and tells me that I little know about handling money I could crown him, and I think I am going to before long.

MAD MA.

Answer:

Richt yu are, Ma! I am with yu 100 per cent, and I'am sorry I can't be there at the crowning, because any husband who has seen the miracles that his wife worked with his pay envelope has certainly got his nerve when he tells her that she doesn't know how to handle money.

Why, it is a matter of common knowledge that a woman can get twice as much out of a dollar as a man can. Watch 'em shop. But I don't believe that. When the average man goes into a store he takes the first thing that is offered him, and he doesn't look to see if it is all wool and a yard wide, if its color is fast, or if it will look like something the cat brought in after the first washing.

He doesn't chew a corner of a napkin to see if it is all linen or pure cotton that is glazed. He doesn't try on forty hats to be sure he is getting just the one that is the most becoming to him. He doesn't walk ten blocks to save 2 cents a pound on a rump steak. He doesn't watch out for cut-rate sales and fight for his life over a necktie on a bargain table.

Mother couldn't make a speech upon economics, but she knows how to practice them. And if that isn't financing I'd like to know what is.

DOROTHY DIX.

How To Win Attention? Teach Yourself To Tap

Know Basic Taps in One Lesson

Do you dream of being the centre of attraction at school? Remember that it's the girl who knows a step that gets noticed—and one of the jolliest stunts is tap dancing.

You'd never believe it—but the liveliest tap routines call for only a few fundamental steps, which you combine in different ways.

Most tap sounds you make by striking the floor with the toe, heel, ball or flat of the foot. And all these basic steps are as simple, as quickly learned as the Full, shown in our diagram.

1. Place weight on right foot, with right knee flexed and left foot off floor.

2. Straighten right knee forcibly and pull back right foot, keeping it flat on floor and making one sound.

Soon you'll find yourself tapping away to any rhythm—from waltz to rumba, ready to do your stuff at a party or a show.

To learn to tap in expert style, follow the simple directions and diagrams for the steps in our 32-page booklet. Gives practice routines, complete directions for full-length waltz, military and buck routines that will make a hit with your crowd.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of Tap Dancing Simplified to The Edmonton Bulletin, Home Service, Edmonton, Alberta. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Minute Make-Ups

When you massage some oily or work on your own arms, feet, legs and neck, be sure that all your massage movements are toward the heart. Never rub away from the heart as it interferes with proper circulation. Make the stroke rhythmic and heartward, always.

DESIGN No. 673—WARM JUMBO-KNIT ROBE

Jumbo wool, big needles, a little leisure, and you find yourself cuddled into one of these woolly sets when chill winds blow the naked trees about. No wonder we have so many letters asking for "a cozy knit dressing gown." Start now and you will have it done well before Christmas. For good measure our designer added the slippers and the cover for hot water bottles. Never have we seen a more practical idea.

The pattern includes complete directions for knitting the set in sizes small, medium and large; material requirements and complete directions for finishing.

To order this design write your name and address on a piece of paper and send with 15 cents in coin or stamps to Needlework Department, The Edmonton Bulletin, Edmonton, Alberta.

JOAN OF ARKANSAS

By Jerry Brondfield

CAST OF CHARACTERS

JOAN JOHNSON, a mysterious coed, glamor girl of the Tech campus.

KEITH RHODES, Tech's star fullback, headed for All-American honors.

DAN WEBBER, the blocking back who cleans Keith's way; a steady, industrious student.

Yesterday: At the Gamma house dance, followed the Vanderbilt victory, Joan meets Dan Webber's date, Eileen Cosgrove. Later, on a moonlight stroll, Keith kisses her. She flunks up, sees Dan Webber staring at her.

CHAPTER XV

JOAN'S hands slid from Keith's shoulders. Something felt mixed up inside her.

"Who's the matter?" Keith asked, oblivious to what she had seen.

"Nothing. It's—it's too cool out here. Let's go in."

They arrived just in time to dance to "Stardust."

"And it'll be justifiable homicide if anyone tries to cut in," Keith growled ominously. "Even if he's some rich alumnus who's thinking of sending us some new furniture, or something. Not a jury in the world would convict me."

They danced past the serving table and stopped for some punch. "Hi, Arkansas," cried Tommy Peters, barging up for a glassful himself.

"Hi, squirt," Joan replied as they swung back onto the floor. "Nice job of cheer-leading you turned in today. Was hoping you'd break your neck on that last touchdown, but you didn't quite make it."

A middle-aged alumnus tapped Tommy on the shoulder. "Did you mean by that, that she was from Arkansas?"

"Sure. Johnson's her name. Joan Johnson. Why?"

"Oh, nothing. I just happened to have spent a few years teaching down there a short while back. What's her father do?"

"He's a hardware dealer, or something like, back east."

"Oh, hardware. Thought maybe she might be—"

"Say," Tommy interrupted. "I thought so, too, for awhile, but she doesn't have a single relative out there."

A few minutes later Joan bumped squarely into Dan.

"Oh, it's you again." She looked him full in the face. "Hope you enjoyed what you were looking at outside."

She was sorry immediately that she allowed the words to escape. She could see Dan growing red. The faint flush started at his neck and spread upward. She would have known what he was thinking even if he hadn't said a word.

"Sure. Enjoyed it immensely." His voice was bitter and shot through with anger. "But I don't like your nasty little implication," he added. "Don't flatter yourself for an instant, thinking I'd want to spy on you. I'm not concerned in the slightest over what you do."

"I'm sorry you said that. You're liable to change your mind some day and I'll be just mean enough to remind you of this."

He shook his head slowly, with meaning. "I don't think I'll be changing my mind. That much I'm sure of."

Dan Webber had a hard time dropping off to sleep that night. His knee throbbed from a vicious tackle he had made that afternoon on the last play with the enemy on the one-yard-line.

The reason was Joan Johnson. He wondered if she could be right. If he would change his mind.

On the other hand he was glad he had made the commitment. Maybe he wouldn't find her in his thoughts so much from now on. Funny thing, the way she had grown on him. Better get her out of his mind completely though.

Joan Johnson. Just another name for a pretty face, that was all. Just a girl. He tried to rationalize his feelings but it didn't work.

Keith Rhodes' type, strictly. Even if he tried to compete with Keith . . . but wait a minute, he wasn't supposed to think about that.

Still, it was natural for Joan to be attracted to Keith. He was the boy with the drums, all right. Handsome. Almost pretty. And he sure looked good on a wide end sweep.

Sure he looked good. But hell, who wouldn't, when Dan was out there knocking down ends and tackling all over the field. Just a blocker. But a helluva good one, he told himself.

He finally drifted off to sleep but all night in his dreams he was running interference for Keith Rhodes. Blocking, blocking, blocking. He could feel every man he blocked contact. And the game seemed to go on for hours.

Keith cut history again the following Monday. Dan looked at Joan when she said hello but he didn't glance her way again during the entire hour. He kept busy, taking notes in that neat, precise manner of his. Occasionally he'd stare out the window.

Joan got up from her seat quickly when the bell rang, and hurried out of the room.

Only then did Dan shift his gaze, his eyes following her as she left.

Cutting across campus toward the library, Joan spied a familiar figure a couple of hundred yards down the walk. It was Keith, headed for his business organization class. She waited until he came up.

"So you finally made it," she observed. "Personally, I don't see why you scheduled anything earlier than 11 o'clock in the first place."

He grinned. "Had to make this one. I feel one of those 10-minute quizzes coming on and I've missed too many of them lately. And for once, I'm ready for it."

She sniffed. "I doubt it, but happy landings, anyway."

And then suddenly remembering something. "Oh, by the way . . . our sociology class will be taking a field trip one of these days. How about using your car?"

"Sure . . . if you leave the tank full of gas," he compromised.

The girls were lounging around, lingering in the dining room after dinner that night when an announcement was made that made them all sit right up in their chairs.

Dan Webber had been hurt in practice. Had broken a small bone in his hand. Nothing very serious but to all probability he'd be kept out of the Duquesne game that week-end.

Joan stared hard at the loudspeaker as the voice went on over broadcast. Marianne noticed the intensity of her expression and looked at her strangely.

"Gee, that's tough," Bonnie Harris said. "That might make all the difference in the world."

"It probably will as far as Keith is concerned," Elaine muttered.

"Why do you persist in giving Webber so much credit for Keith's success?" Joan asked. "Imagine Dan's pretty valuable to the team or he wouldn't be playing, but I guess Keith'll get along without him."

Elaine shrugged. "You might understand it some time when you know a little more about football. You've got to remember my brother played for Troy a few years back—and he's made one football connection."

"Say, Joan," Marianne piped up. "Why don't you call up Beth and get the low-down firsthand. About Dan, I mean. Keith'd know, wouldn't he? Go 'head and call."

Joan balked at first, thought about it a while and changed her mind. She called the Gamma house but Keith was out. Wouldn't be back until 10.

"Is Tommy Peters there?" she asked.

Tommy was out, too. Would any-

Raising A Family

If a young child is shy of company, can we help him to overcome it by:

A. Forcing him to meet people?
B. Ridiculing him to make too great a fuss over him?
C. Training him to have better manners when company comes?
D. Teaching him assurance by regarding him as a real person and a baby?

As for "A," the specialists keep telling us never to force a child, and that goes about ninety percent of the time. I think, but sometimes it just has to be done. We can't grow every diffident child up in a sack every time strangers come around.

O. R. Burton

If he is handled properly, almost any child can be taught that people mean well toward him. He must lose some of his painful self-consciousness and not stand aloof with his finger in his mouth or hide his face on mother's lap.

It is rather important, I think, for children to learn to trust people early in life and not establish the dread that adds so painfully to emotional inferiority.

Concerning "B," visitors should be asked to make a fuss over the really shy child if they are keen to want to, and wean it kindly and honestly. But anything that makes him the center of attention excites him alarm. He may decide next time not to let it happen. He will be more afraid than ever of the ladies who admire his eyes and call him such a darling.

DON'T RUSH TRAINING OF SHY CHILD

In some ways we shall have to postpone too much training in manners, until Billy or Susan learns to have a little more faith. To remind a tiny child every minute he is in the presence of guests that he is doing wrong won't help him to gain confidence. A few general rules explained when no one else hears, will do for the time.

"D" is a good course. Don't talk baby talk to him before people. Once in a while it is certainly natural to use "cute" language, but any child fed on it all day will lose identity. He should be "you." Talk to him, not inside him. Make him feel that he is a real fellow, and take him seriously, as he takes himself.

one else do?

She thought for a few seconds before answering. Then:

"Yes—let me talk to Dan Webber if he's in."

Don't Use Fine Linen On Hallowe'en Table

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Lots of eats but no frills. That's the best suggestion for the Hallowe'en supper. Make your decorations yellow, black, and "spooky." But don't use your fine linen. Paper napkins and runners are more appropriate for this kind of party. Apples must be on the table. So should doughnuts and a bowl of nuts. Sandwiches and coffee are essentials, too.

A baked ham to be sliced as wanted, sandwich mixtures in bowls to be spread on large, buttered slices of bread, and a pitcher of cider are other suggestions. Special cakes and cookies add to the informal bounty of this witches' party. A gay-looking meat loaf could appear at the party, too. Especially if you have plenty of men who like plenty to eat.

PRESSED VEAL LOAF WITH JACK O'LANTERN EGGS

(Serves 6 to 8)

Loaf: 1 package salad gelatin (aspic) 1¼ cups boiling water, ¾ teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, few drops onion juice, 3 cups cooked veal, chopped or finely ground.

Dissolve salad gelatin in boiling water. Add salt, pepper and onion juice. Cool. Mix half gelatin with veal loaf pan. Pour on dissolved gelatin mixture. Chill until firm. Unmold on platter and garnish with Jack O'Lantern eggs.

Jack O'Lantern Eggs: Cut five hard-cooked eggs in half lengthwise. Take out yolks and mix with mayonnaise and seasonings desired. Make them rather spicy. Refill the whites, spreading yellow mixture to edge. Make faces with pieces of pimento and insert parsley stem in top.

HALLOWEEN COOKIES

Four dozen, 2½ inch

One cup shortening, 2 cups brown sugar, 1 egg, beaten, 2 tablespoons cinnamon, 3 cups flour.

Cream shortening and add sugar, slowly, stirring constantly until mixture is smooth; add beaten egg and cinnamon. Add flour gradually, roll out and cut with round cookie cutter. Place on baking sheet. Decorate with raisin eyes, almond nose and cherry mouth. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 7 minutes.

Tomorrow's Menu

Breakfast: Tomato juice, oatmeal milk.

Debunker

According to popular usage, one would think that there is no difference between a gramophone and a phonograph. But the dictionaries point out that they are not the same things. A phonograph is an instrument that uses cylinders for records; something like the original invention of Edison; a gramophone is an instrument that uses flat discs, usually wax, for reproducing music. So, it looks like we have all been talking about gramophones rather than phonographs. One never hears the word phonograph in England. It is always gramophone—which is correct.

TO REMOVE MILDEW

Mildew spots on book pages usually can be removed by gently brushing over with a soft clean cloth, then placing the book in a warm dry place until the pages are thoroughly aired and dried.

LIKE FATHER LIKE DAUGHTER

LONDON.—Lady Alexandra Haig, daughter of the commander-in-chief in the first Great War, is proving that she has not let her serious attitude towards her work as a V.A.D. in St. George's hospital here.

Hallowe'en Luncheon: Clear chicken broth with avocado cubes, pressed veal loaf with Jack O'Lantern eggs, hot biscuits, spiced cranberries, stuffed celery, orange ice cream, Hallowe'en cookies, tea, milk.

Dinner: Creamed codfish with eggs, parsley potatoes, Brussels sprouts, cornbread, compote of fresh fruits, Hallowe'en cookies, coffee, milk.

Broomhall

Although wheat stocks at Antwerp have recently increased, due to the heavier arrivals there were further purchases yesterday of Argentine and Canadian sorts at 81 and 103 cents a bushel including the insurance. England now quotes war risk insurance on allied vessels at 2½ to 3 per cent. Although the American subsidy on flour continues in effect, exports each week are diminishing. Approximate exports of wheat and flour since the beginning of the season are given as follows (000 omitted): Week ending July 8, United States 1,790 vs. Canadian 3,582. July 15, 792 vs. 2,076. July 22, 1,643 vs. 2,415. July 29, 1,026 vs. 1,037. August 6, 2,011 vs. 1,711. August 12, 1,395 vs. 3,505. August 19, 1,732 vs. 3,900. August 26, 1,549 vs. 2,265. Sept. 2, 1,736 vs. 940. Sept. 9, 582 vs. 4,225. Sept. 16, 801 vs. 1,550. Sept. 23, 986 vs. 2,116. Sept. 31, 292 vs 1,718. October 9, 1,076 vs. 2,748. October 14, 307 vs 1,433. October 21, 1,115 vs. 1,391. October 28, 773 vs 1,371. The Canadian exports have also diminished due to the lack of vessels on account of the war, but heavy clearances next month will very likely make up for the loss and Vancouver will probably recommence shipping lumber and wheat again in November as a few hundred tons of wheat have been sold for export recently. Rumania is reported to have sold 100,000 tons of wheat to Italy for prompt shipment from the Black sea ports.

FLIER FACES FIRST-DEGREE MURDER COUNT

MACON, Mo., Oct. 31. — Ernest Pletch, 29-year-old eccentric amateur pilot, will be tried for the murder of Flying Instructor Carl Bivens in the county over which it is believed the fantastic mid-air slaying took place.

Officials of three adjoining northern Missouri counties agreed Monday Pletch, son of a well-to-do Indiana farm couple, apparently shot Bivens as they flew high over Macon county, which divides two principal scenes in the unprecedented case.

They went up together Friday at Brookfield, in Linn county, and more than 24 hours later Bivens' body was recovered from a thicket 50 miles east of Shelby county.

Prosecuting Attorney Vincent S Moody said he would file first degree murder charges today against Pletch.

Divorce Suit Is Filed On Monday By Ruby Keeler

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—Ruby Keeler filed suit Monday for a divorce from Al Jolson. She made only one charge, extreme cruelty. Her complaint said a property settlement had been made out of court.

The Jolsons were married in 1928.

Ruby, actress and dancing star formerly of Halifax, N.S., asks custody of their adopted son, Al, J., who is four years and eight months old.

Sharpe Heads Curling Club At Athabasca

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

ATHABASCA, Oct. 31.—Curlers laid plans at their annual meeting last night for ten men's rinks this winter. A. D. Sharpe was elected president, J. G. Deacon, vice-president, and W. Clow, secretary-treasurer. F. R. Falconer was named rink committee and the executive is Dr. Wright, G. V. Bolton, A. D. Sharpe, J. G. Deacon and W. Clow. Question of the club affiliating with the Alberta Curling Association was discussed but left for later decision.

Thirty-nine boys turned out last night, 17 for Wolf Cubs and 22 for Boy Scouts. Their enthusiasm augurs for a keen winter of Scout and Cub work. Cubmaster Jim Taylor and Scoutmaster Rev. J. A. Hockin outlined the year's program and, with their assistants, L. Gorman, F. L. Falconer and C. Conquest, put the boys through their preliminary paces.

With the ice all cleared by a strong wind, the ferry was pushed back into the river Monday by the caterpillar tractor of the highway maintainers.

Threshing is speeding up as there is still much to be done.

WAGE INCREASE ANNOUNCED BY TEXTILE FIRM

MONTREAL, Oct. 31—Announcing the immediate application of a ten percent wage increase amounting to nearly one million dollars in extra wages for the eleven thousand cotton textile employees of Dominion Textile Company Limited, Blair Gordon, recently elected president of the company, said today that the upward revision advances total earnings of employees to an all time high point.

"Real wages, reflecting the relation between wages and living costs, also are at the highest figure yet attained since Dominion Textile began manufacturing cotton yarns and fabrics in the early years of the century," continued Mr. Gordon. "The ten per cent pay increase is seen to be much greater than the rise which has so far occurred in the cost of maintaining our Canadian standard of living."

Effective from October 30 the new rate applies to all employees in all Dominion Textile cotton mills. These mills are situated in various communities throughout the province of Quebec.

FRENCH TOWN IS BOMBARDED BY NAZI GUNS

German Artillery Action On Western Front Is Resumed

PARIS, Oct. 31 — Military sources reported today a French town about six miles within the border had been shelled heavily in a resumption of German artillery action on the western front. The town was not otherwise identified.

Sharp land engagements were said to have coincided with the artillery attack as clearing weather released aerial reconnaissance patrols over the Allied and German lines.

French anti-aircraft batteries shot down at least one German plane 100 miles within French territory, the military sources said. They expressed belief several other German planes also had been brought down.

FRENCH FLIGHTS

These informants said seven flights of French planes had flown over enemy territory, returning safely with valuable information. Concentration of German troops opposite the Netherlands border in northwestern Germany was said to have been relaxed.

(Today's Berlin communique said four "enemy" planes had been shot down by the Germans.)

Brisk land engagements occurred in three sectors, it was reported—in the Moselle valley near Luxembourg, near Saarbruecken, 40 miles to the east and along the Blies river, east of Saarbruecken. The French reported one man missing and said they took two German prisoners. Casualties were not given.

QUIET NIGHT

The war ministry reported, "a quiet night on the whole front."

Some French military commentators expressed the opinion Germany was not likely to launch a big-scale offensive, and wondered if major German action might be confined to air attacks on the British Isles.

They reported the Germans digging in north of Forbach and Sarreguemines, interpreting this as a tendency toward defence rather than attack.

Germans Concentrate In Black Forest

By CHARLES FOLTZ
Associated Press Staff Writer

BASEL, Switzerland, Oct. 31.—New German troop concentrations were reported today in the Black Forest but many observers expressed belief this might be only another manoeuvre in Germany's "war of nerves."

They believed Germany had nine army corps of nearly 2,000,000 men on the western front, facing France.

Since the French withdrew from German soil, there have been at least six elaborately-planned concentrations by the Germans, these observers said.

One was near the Belgian and Netherlands borders, another in the Haardt forests north of Wissembourg, then around Baden, then in the Saar area, then back to the Belgian border sector, and now in the Black Forest.

By keeping the initiative and maintaining the threat of attack through these swift concentrations, the Germans are forcing France and Great Britain into counter-concentrations, these onlookers said, and thus any arrangements for an Allied offensive are made difficult.

TIME WORKING FOR ALLIES IN WAR IS CLAIM

OTTAWA, Oct. 31. — Time is working for the Allies in the war, Count Robert De Dampierre, French minister to Canada, told a service club here Monday.

"We are not in a hurry, but the enemy is," he said. "Time works for us, and in a war in which the moral and economic factors are so important, a wise general staff allows them full play in order to save human lives.

"The Siegfried line will fall when the fruit is ripe, and it is important that the fruit be allowed to ripen," he said. "The Allies will win a victory that will restore to large and small countries alike, the right to live without being constantly threatened by brutal force."

19 Survivors Of Finnish Steamer Land In England

LONDON, Oct. 31—Nineteen survivors of the 1,241-ton Finnish steamship Juno, which sank Monday after an explosion in the North Sea, were landed last night at an eastern British port. Nine suffering from wounds or exhaustion were hospitalized.

The Juno went down 10 minutes after the explosion. Some crew members, among them five stewardesses, pulled clear in a life-boat. Others leaped into the sea and swam 20 minutes or more before being picked up with the remainder of the crew by a Norwegian ship.

The Juno, property of the Finska Angfartygs company of Helsingfors, was built in 1920 at Elith, Scotland, by Hawthorne and Company, Limited.

The famous "Pitch Lake" on the island of Trinidad is not formed of pitch. It is a vast deposit of asphalt. Great quantities are shipped to the United States for paving city streets.

Winter Blizzard Proves Boon To Northern Hunters

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

GOLDFIELDS, Sask., Oct. 31—Over the week-end, with the first blizzard of winter, thousands of barren land caribou swept out of the northeast through the bush lands surrounding Goldfields. The boom of high-power rifles could be heard in the camp Saturday and Sunday as hunters took toll of moving herds. Howard Souch, of the game branch, reported picking up half a dozen act violators Saturday. The season does not open until November 15. Sunday a score of kills were seen along trails within three miles of town.

TWO WOUNDED MISSIONARIES ARE IDENTIFIED

PEIPING, China, Oct. 31—Two Canadian Jesuit missionaries wounded by Japanese gunfire Saturday were identified Monday as Brothers E. Gauvin and L. Fontaine.

The shootings, said by the Japanese to have occurred in error when a sentry thought the missionaries were "trying to escape", occurred at a village 10 miles southwest of Suchow.

Brother Gauvin was shot through the side and in the stomach. He was operated on at Suchow and given a blood transfusion. His condition was described as "serious but improving."

Brother Fontaine was shot in the back and through the shoulder, a bullet scratching the lungs.

A third missionary, Rev. L. Bourassa, accompanying the brothers, was unwounded.

The Japanese sentry reported he fired at a distance of 350 yards "after vainly attempting to halt the priests."

Salvation Army Asked To Stress Militant Phase

TORONTO, Oct. 31—Senator Arthur Meighen Sunday called on the Salvation Army to stress the militant phase of its organization in facing "The greatest hazard that has ever confronted our world."

Addressing the 57th annual congress of the Salvation Army here, he declared religious institutions of all faiths stand in direct line of attack loosed on the civilized world by Hitler.

Senator Meighen is chairman of the advisory board of the Salvation Army in Toronto. "The only public office I hold in the Dominion of Canada," he declared.

BRITISH ARE READY MEET NAZI ATTACK

Heavy Concentrations Of Ships and Planes Along East Coast

LONDON, Oct. 31. — Heavy naval and warplane concentrations along Great Britain's east coast, military observers said today, indicate the British are ready to meet any attack by planes or ships in the North Sea.

"Predictions aren't much good," one tactical expert said, "but you can be sure of one thing, and that is that Great Britain wouldn't be caught out if Adolf Hitler sent along his planes and submarines in a bunch for one terrific North Sea battle."

Much of the feeling that the North Sea will be one of the big battlegrounds of the war comes from such German pronouncements as that which appeared in Hitler's newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, over the week-end.

The paper asserted if "England persists in throwing overboard one after the other all conceptions of international rules, then it must reckon with inevitable intensification of war against its commerce."

British observers foresee England as the principal target of German air and sea attacks. Just as she has been so far the principal target of German verbal attacks.

British tactical authorities regard the periodic raids and reconnaissance flights thus far over the Scapa Flow and Firth of Forth naval areas and the attack on one British convoy as "experimental" actions to feel out resistance and test the ground for bigger things.

Aerial experts hinted Britain is prepared for such attacks as follows:

Second, they would encounter Britain's balloon barrage and anti-aircraft batteries.

Hitler Denounced By Irish Bishop

DUBLIN, Oct. 31—Mgr. Michael Fogarty, Roman Catholic Bishop of Killaloe, in a sermon delivered Sunday at Ennis Cathedral, County Clare, denounced Adolf Hitler for "The most frightful crime in history" in turning millions of Christians over to the Soviet Union. He referred to partitioning of Poland.

TRIO HURT IN ROAD ACCIDENT EAST OF CITY

Bus Hits Rear Of Parked Truck On Bremner Corner Tuesday

Three persons were injured, none of them critically, when a 21-passenger bus bound for Edmonton from Lloydminster crashed into the rear end of a large cattle truck parked on the highway near the Bremner corner, about 10 miles east of the city, about 5 a.m. Tuesday.

The injured, who were brought to the Royal Alexandra hospital here in a Jack Hays ambulance, are:

Anne Pawliuk, a nurse at the Cold Lake hospital, is in the Royal Alexandra hospital suffering from head and other injuries. She was unconscious when taken to hospital.

CUTS ON HEAD

Opal Stonehocker, 27, of Pearceland, Sask. She received cuts about the face and head.

Albert Bellamy, 28, 10251 106 street, driver of the bus. He is suffering from head injuries, cuts and shock.

FLAT TIRE

According to reports reaching the city the truck was parked on the corner with a flat tire. Bus company officials said they had been informed there were no lights on the bus.

The bus, coming towards the city, apparently crashed into the left rear corner of the truck, knocking it along the road and breaking the box. The bus swung out of control, across a ditch and sheared off a telegraph pole before coming to a stop.

There were five passengers in the bus at the time and three of them escaped with only a shaking. They were brought into the city by cars sent out by the bus company.

Garrison Forms Six-Team Group For Hockey Play

Lt.-Col. E. "Ted" Brown, M.M., Garrison commandant, announced Tuesday that the advisory committee on Garrison sports has decided to form a six-team Garrison Hockey League and to enter a team in the Intermediate City League. Arrangements were also discussed for an exhibition game at the Edmonton arena, Nov. 15, between a picked Garrison team and the Edmonton Athletic Club. Proceeds of the game will be devoted to Garrison sports.

The advisory sports committee is composed of Col. Brown; Dr. G. W. Hardy, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association; Clarence Campbell; George Mackinnon, president of the Edmonton Hockey Association; and the sports liaison officers of Garrison units.

Vote Plans

CITY CLERK RUSSELL

returning officer for the November 8 municipal elections, who is busy making arrangements for voting.

The Inquiring Reporter

What are you interested in? On what question would you like to get the opinions of your neighbors? The Bulletin's Inquiring Reporter column will give you the answers. Send in your questions. For every timely, interesting question submitted and used in this column on public opinion, The Bulletin will pay $1. It must be timely; it must be interesting and it must be used.

THE QUESTION

What do you think of the policy of a certain employer in the United States who supplies the staff in his factory with doughnuts and coffee at four o'clock in the afternoon because he thinks his employees work better for the relaxation and refreshment? For digging up this question, Thomas Craig, 11516 96 street, wins one of the Inquiring Reporter's crisp one-dollar bills.

THE ANSWERS

LLOYD McLACHLIN, photographer and employer: It's a great idea, Sergeant, in fact, that I have put it into effect in my plant. Read about it some time ago and resolved to try it out. So far the plan has worked out beautifully. Drop in sometime around 4 p.m. and have a bite with us.

"TONY" NOLIN, photo-finisher: That's old stuff to me and my fellow employees. The boss has been serving us refreshments for some time past, bless him. I find that I never get that late afternoon letdown and am able to carry out my duties with the greatest efficiency.

MURRAY CHARTERS, truck driver: I'm all for it. Employees would be of better service to their employer if the afternoon tea were made a general practice and ritual. They would be appreciative of their employer, I imagine, and would do their utmost to serve him as all employers think they should be served.

* * *

HARRY VINCE, messenger: It's a fine idea alright, but how are you going to get the business man to feel the same way? It shouldn't be difficult to convince the lady that afternoon tea would be a good thing. You can set me down as a supporter of the plan.

License Plates May Be Orange - Black

Decision as to the color scheme of next year's license plates will be made shortly, according to E. Trowbridge, deputy provincial secretary, who stated that color of Alberta plates next year would probably be orange on black. There will be no change in the size of the plates, according to officials.

SCHOOL BOARD VOTING ISSUE NOW A PUZZLE

Impossible To Select Last-Nominated Candidate For Vacancy

Election of public school trustees at the November 8 vote is complicated by a provision of the city charter that says that, when a one-year vacancy is to be filled, the last nominated candidate shall have that seat.

However, in the case of the present five Citizens' Committee candidates nominated for the five seats, it is not possible to select the last candidate as one nomination was filed early and the other four were handed in together.

City Solicitor T. E. Garside, K.C., and city commissioners are studying the question and will issue a statement Wednesday.

TWO VACANCIES

Two of the vacancies are for South Side seats and the two South Side candidates automatically will be elected. Returning Officer Alfred Russell is not sure, however, whether one of the South Side candidates, if he received the lowest vote in an election, would be allotted the one-year term.

In previous elections, the two South Siders with the highest votes were first declared elected. This may mean that they automatically receive two-year terms but the amalgamation agreement only calls for two South Siders to have membership on the board.

When nominations were filed, that of S. Bruce Smith, K.C., was handed in first. The other four, from A. E. Ottewell, Roy L. Sutherland, M. M. Downey and S. S. Bowcott, were handed in together in a bunch.

NUMBERED LAST

When the returning officer numbered them, he numbered Mr. Bowcott's paper last, but this, he feels, does not constitute a last nomination.

Meanwhile, Mr. Russell has ordered ballots printed for the mayoralty, city council and public school board. Proofs of the ballots were ready late Tuesday.

POPPY CAMPAIGN OPENS TUESDAY: TAG NOVEMBER 4

Members of the National Council of Jewish Women supported the annual Poppy Day campaign Tuesday under the direction of Mrs. J. Shuler, when they began canvassing firms in the city, requesting them to buy wreaths to be displayed in their premises or placed on the Cenotaph, Nov. 11. Other organizations and safety clubs will continue the canvass during the week.

The street sale of poppies will be carried out by the I.O.D.E., the Legion of Frontiersmen, members of the Edmonton Garrison and a host of voluntary workers. The I.O.D.E. will supply the largest body of workers. The street sale will be held Nov. 4.

His Honor, Lt. Gov. J. C. Bowen will broadcast an address in support of Poppy Day at 6:15 p.m. Friday.

WITCHES ROAM STREETS FOR HALLOWE'EN

It is a very modern place this world of ours, with its mighty airplanes, streamlined motor cars and streamlined girls, but just for tonight old father time will spin the clock back a few thousand years to the time when, according to fairies and Mother Goose, hosts of goblins and witches roamed the world.

Hordes of these fantastic figures will walk city streets tonight terrifying citizens and exacting tribute from householders in the form of Hallowe'en apples, candies and nuts.

A specially augmented police force will also roam city streets, keeping an eye on the goblins and ghosts to make sure no witches get into mischief. Police Chief A. G. Shute is determined that no law-breakers are going to cause damage to property, but he intends to see that the average youth has a chance to really enjoy Hallowe'en.

Candidates Speak

Candidates in forthcoming civic election will address a meeting in the Riverdale Community Hall at 8 p.m., Tuesday. Speakers will include Mayor John W. Fry, S. A. G. Barnes, Ald. F. C. Casselman, Joseph A. Clarke, K.C., Ald. George Campbell and Mrs. I. Ringwood.

Visit of Deputy Grand Sire Sovereign Grand Lodge

I.O. Oddfellows and Rebekahs are asked to attend at the I.O.O.F. Hall, 3rd Street, on Wednesday, Nov. 1, at 3 p.m. for a conference and at 8 p.m. to an open meeting with musical programme and an address from our distinguished and honored visitor.

Conservation Plan For Resources Now Government Policy

Conservation policies are being carried out by the provincial lands and mines department to preserve natural resources for economical use to secure the greatest good to the greatest number over a period of time, Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, declared Tuesday.

Urges Care

provincial minister of lands and mines, who is appealing for precautions in the conservation of Alberta resources, particularly timber.

"There are certain of our resources such as metals and oil which can, by government regulation and supervision, be conserved, yet there are others such as timber, water, furs and fish which can be conserved only through an educational program and the closest co-operation of the citizens of the country."

Mr. Tanner appealed to residents to use care in clearing land by fire. Figures showed of 521 fires occurring last year, for about 90 per cent of them were caused by man's carelessness. Besides great fire-fighting cost, these resulted in enormous loss of timber, denudation of forest cover on east Rocky Mountain slopes and other far-reaching consequences.

APPEALS FOR CARE

He made an appeal "to the people, settlers, hunters, fishermen, trappers and pleasure seekers to observe with the regulations governing fires of all kinds."

He said the government was refusting cultivation privileges on provincial land unless and until careful soil survey found land suitable for growing crops.

Regulations required settlers to leave a certain area of trees per quarter section for wind breaks.

AROUND THE TOWN

Gyro Club meeting Tuesday at the Macdonald hotel was addressed by Alex. Mitchell, member of the club.

S. F. Francis, of Sussex, Eng., retired member of the London Stock Exchange, came to Edmonton Tuesday. He will be here until Monday.

Bank clearings for October totalled $21,341,142.37 as compared to $20,564,303.27 for the corresponding month last year, the clearing house reported here Tuesday.

Annual convention of the Alberta Civil Service Association will be held at Calgary on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 8 and 9, it was announced Tuesday by W. T. Aiken, president of the organization. It has been the policy of the association to hold the convention in Calgary every three or four years.

Traffic survey on main city intersections is expected to be completed Friday, it was reported Tuesday by Douglas Thomson, draftsman in the city engineers department. Meetings will be held Wednesday and Thursday to arrange for Boy Scouts to do the work. Twelve intersections were checked on October 20, and nine more are to be done.

Through The Mill

The guy was a smooth talker, see, but he wasn't such a smooth thinker, with the result that he tried the old game just once too often, and the first thing he knew he was slapped into the jail house, and Tuesday morning he was marched up before the beak to answer a charge of false pretenses.

He dresses like he might be important, see. And when he spots a couple of lugs looking like they could go for a bit of work standing around on a street corner he edges up to them, coughs respectfully to attract attention, and then flatters them by saying, "Pardon me, gentlemen . . ."

The hook has been baited, the line dropped over the pier, the fish are nibbling and it is just about time for a strike.

So our slicker then unwinds a story about being from Regina and looking for guys to work at an oil refinery there and do they know where he could find some men, because he needs about a dozen. Well, the two lugs know about themselves and immediately offer their services —especially after he tells them what large pay envelopes they will receive. Then he tells them, a little apologetically, that he will have to have some evidence of their good faith. Would the two gentlemen mind putting up—say $50. They had the $50 and immediately parted with it.

The gentlemen are properly jubilant at their success. But when they gather at the station to leave for the new job the guy ain't there—see. So they get smart and hike down to the police and tell their story. The coppers know the guy, though, because he has pulled the same gag before. So in no time at all they have him bundled up.

He pleaded guilty in police court. The magistrate—very unsympathetic with guys like that—orders him to spend the next nine months thinking things over down at the jail at Fort Saskatchewan.

Recently elected president of the Cosmopolitan Club, T. L. Robinson was formally installed in office on Tuesday at the club's meeting in the Corona hotel, together with the members of the executive.

Public school vaccination campaign was proceeding Tuesday, Dr. G. E. Swallow, medical inspector working at McCauley school and Dr. F. J. Folinsbee at Alex. Taylor school.

A decree nisi of divorce was granted Mrs. Rosanna A. Eisenheimer, Glenevis, from William Eisenheimer by Mr. Justice W. C. Ives in supreme court Tuesday on the usual statutory grounds.

SPEAKER SAYS PROFITS WRONG IN WAR NEED

First meeting of the C.C.F. in Edmonton in a campaign to "Take the profits out of war," was held Monday in the Masonic temple.

Speaker was Dr. W. F. Kelloway, Calgary, former minister of Knox United church in that city and now C.C.F. candidate for the federal riding of East Calgary.

Dr. Kelloway attacked the ruling that Canadian companies were to be limited to five per cent profit on war work.

Petition urging that "no individual or corporation should be permitted to make profit out of a nation's extremity, nor out of the lives and bodies of their fellows," was presented to the meeting by William Irvine, provincial organizer of the party.

Chester Ronning, Camrose, provincial leader of the C.C.F., presided the Social Credit government on provincial issues.

Train Conductor Punches His Last Railroad Ticket

As the C.P.R. Winnipeg train pulled to the station here Tuesday morning there was one person swinging off the step who was saying goodbye to active service with the road. He is Conductor Andrew Porter, 10637 85 avenue, who ends 36 years of railroading, 19 of which have been on trains out of Edmonton.

With a steady hand and a cheery smile, Mr. Porter helped his last passengers down the steps and off the train, then picked up his own bag and left for home and breakfast.

A Bulletin cameraman was at the station early in the morning when the train arrived, but Mr. Porter would not have his picture taken. "No, no," he laughed. "If my picture was in the paper I would feel embarrassed."

The veteran conductor entered the railroad in Saskatchewan in 1903 and his retirement on pension starts today, October 31.

ALBERTA MOTOR ASSOCIATION ROAD REPORTS

HOUSE PLAN NOW NEARING COMPLETION

Third Owner Occupies $4,900 City-Constructed Dwelling

Third owner of houses built or being built by the city under its small housing plan moved into his new one-and-one-half storey home at 141 street and 100 avenue on Tuesday it was learned from Max Dewar, assistant city architect and building inspector. This home cost $4,900.

Two of the other homes are occupied, a $3,000 one-and-one-half-storey house at 79 avenue and 112 street and a $3,400 bungalow at 61 street and 111 avenue.

The last two will be finished this week, a $3,700 one-and-one-half-storey house at 110 street and 80 avenue and a bungalow at 145 street and Summit avenue.

Owners are paying upwards of 20 per cent. cash and the balance is being financed by the city over 15 years at 5 per cent, the money being supplied by the Dominion as a revolving fund.

"All the owners are highly pleased with the work Mr. Dewar has done on these houses and say they are excellently constructed and finished," Commissioner R. J. Gibb said Tuesday.

Under the chairmanship of Clayton Adams, the Provincial Industrial Relations Board met at the Legislative buildings Tuesday. Mr. Adams stated routine matters were on the agenda. Others attending were W. D. King, deputy minister of trade and industry; R. J. Gavin, secretary, and F. Rasmussen, board member residing in Calgary, who came up for the meeting.

JUDGMENT IS RESERVED FOR TOBACCO CASE

Counsel Wants Appeal Court Ruling If Decision Is Adverse

Judgment was reserved Tuesday by Mr. Justice A. F. Ewing in supreme court in the application made by L. A. Forsyth, K.C., Montreal, for the dismissal of five charges of conspiracy to form a tobacco combine against 44 manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers.

Before closing his argument seeking the dismissal Mr. Forsyth requested the court that, in the event of an adverse judgment on the application, it should be referred to the Alberta court of appeal.

Application seeking particulars of the alleged conspiracy will not be made until the present dismissal application has been disposed of.

Argument for the defendants was presented by Mr. Forsyth and was supported by counsel for all defendants charged.

Court Has Power To Amend Charges

Law in the Province of Alberta permits that, even if the indictment or each count of the indictment is found to be defective, whether in form or substance, power is vested in the court to amend the indictment and counts to make them good, A. L. Smith, chief crown counsel, submitted to Mr. Justice A. F. Ewing Monday in presenting argument against the application for dismissal of charges against 44 manufacturers.

UPPLIES FOR 2 BATTERIES NOW IN CITY

Four More Field Pieces Arrive Here For Units From B.C.

Full equipment, including four more field pieces, for the 107th and 111th batteries, Royal Canadian Artillery, which joined the Edmonton garrison last week, after being stationed in British Columbia has arrived here, according to Lieut. Col. E. brown, M.M. garrison commandant.

Lieut. Col. R. A. Wyman has taken over co-ordination of artillery training and the two batteries, in addition to the 61st and 82nd, are under his instruction.

ELECTRICIANS

Col. Brown announced that on Monday the school for instruction of electricians from the 9th Army Troops Company, Royal Canadian Engineers, commenced at the University of Alberta, under Prof. Cullwick. There are 20 men attending this school.

The mechanics course of instruction at the Edmonton Technical school opened Monday night. Instruction is being given by a group of 10 instructors who attended a special course given at Edmonton Motors for auto mechanics and a course for tractor mechanics given at the Union Tractor company. About 200 men are taking these courses.

SPORT EVENT

On Thursday evening Mike Catcher, with assistance of garrison officers, is staging his second boxing and wrestling show of the fall season at the Prince of Wales armory. All talent will be drawn from the garrison, so as to determine just how much talent there is available.

Although not mobilized as part of the Canadian Active Service Force, the 19th Alberta Dragoons, with headquarters at Connaught Armory, South Side, is planning a cavalry course, which is designed to qualify men for all ranks up to that of lieutenant. A similar course is being given by the Edmonton Fusiliers (M.G.) at Victoria Armory, while the C.O. T.C. at the U. of A. also is conducting a course.

The Dragoons course will see registration commence Tuesday and applicants will be required to pass a medical test and to be attested as enlisted men in the regiment.

Enrolment will be completed at the Connaught Armory at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Capt. R. A. Bradburn of the 19th will head the school. Lectures will be given Tuesday and Thursday evenings and recapitulation will take place on Sundays. Applicants for commissions must first serve three months in the ranks.

JANUARY FIXED AS PARLEY DATE SOCRED LEAGUE

The 1940 annual convention of the Alberta Social Credit league will be held in January, dates and place to be set later, according to J. A. Maurice, general secretary of the league declared Monday. Details of the convention await action by annual meetings of subsidiary local Social Credit organizations, he said.

Each provincial constituency, under terms of the constitution adopted last year, is entitled to send three delegates to the convention, whereas previously each constituency had sent one delegate—although being six-member constituencies, this city and Calgary each had sent six delegates.

Constituency conventions are now organized in various parts of the province, Mr. Maurice stated. Resolutions and other business will be discussed, which will be later forwarded to the provincial convention.

The Rocky Mountain constituency convention got under way on Monday with Alfred J. Hooke and Floyd M. Baker as special speakers.

Arrangements have been completed for other conventions as follows: Acadia: Coronation at Sedalia, Nov. 8, with G. L. MacLachlan, M.L.A.; N. B. James, M.L.A., and Mr. Maurice as speakers. Ponoka constituency at Ponoka on Nov. 9, with Mrs. Edith Rogers, M.L.A., and Mr. Baker as speakers. Peace River constituency at Grimshaw on Nov. 2, with W. J. Lampley, M.L.A., and others speaking. Grouard constituency at McLennan on Nov. 14, with Mr. Maurice and others speaking.

1,800 CHILDREN ATTEND SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING

Nearly 1,800 children of Edmonton Sunday schools attended the 15th annual grand rally of the Edmonton United church Sunday school association which took place at McDougall United church on Sunday afternoon.

Rt. Rev. John W. Woodside addressed the gathering, and Rev. John M. Miller chairman, spoke.

Choir selections were given by the joint junior choir of Robertson and Central schools with Mrs. Cyril J. Holleman conducting and G. A. Kevan accompanying. A picture "The Way to Salvation" was shown and a rally for junior and primary departments in the Sunday school room was held at the same time with a selected program of singing and stories.

Driller is injured At Lloydminster

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

LLOYDMINSTER, Oct. 31.—Lee Rae, member of the drilling crew at the Highwood Blackfoot well, 12 miles southwest of Lloydminster, sustained a broken collarbone as a result of getting tangled up in the brake ropes on the big drill wheel and being thrown to the derrick floor. He was taken to the Lloydminster hospital where he is resting comfortably.

LARGE SUM TO BE SPENT FOR TOURIST TRADE

Expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars probably will be made by northwest states next year to attract tourists, according to D. E. C. Campbell, provincial publicity director, who has returned from attending, as government representative, the annual convention of the Pacific North West Tourist Association at Spokane, Wash.

Mr. Campbell declared that delegates from any states as well as British Columbia attended the meeting.

Publicizing of the Jasper-Banff highway and the section of the Trans-Canada highway between Golden and Revelstoke, B.C., which will be opened next year were matters that occupied the convention, Mr. Campbell said. Delegates pointed out that Alberta would be the extreme point of travel for many tourists from the east.

Mr. Campbell pointed out that there is now a paved highway from Banff to Spokane, 400 miles, with the exception of a short stretch east of Lake Windermere and which will be completed as soon as possible.

Start has been made in laying out $65,000 for tourist publicity purposes in British Columbia, Mr. Campbell stated, and it is estimated that the State of Montana which has extended hard-surfaced roads a considerable distance in recent years, has done $28,000,000 in tourist business this year.

STUDENTS AT VARSITY WITH SCHOLARSHIPS

Agriculture students at the University of Alberta are hoping to get a few helpful hints from someone besides their instructors this year. That person is 20-year-old Lloyd Rigby of Wembley, who last year won the world wheat championship, defeating veteran wheat growers from all parts of the world. He is a freshman.

Lloyd, youngest world wheat growing champion in history, won a scholarship at the Vermilion school of agriculture last year, entitling him to attend classes at the university for one year. He hopes to receive his B.Sc. degree in agriculture in three years. Rigby is hoping to garner further laurels in international competition again this year. He will enter wheat samples in the Chicago International Grain and Hay exposition.

Also attending classes in agriculture at the university are Robert Menzies of Provost and Alan Harrison of Penfield, former students at the Vermilion school, who won scholarships last year entitling them to a year's free tuition.

FARMER LOSES DAMAGE CASE APPEAL HERE

Appeal of Adolphus Callihoo, Villeneuve farmer, against decision of Mr. Justice S. J. Shepard dismissing his damage action against Douglas Bradbury and William S. Walker, Winterburn, was dismissed by the court of appeal of Alberta in a judgment handed down on Monday by Mr. Justice Frank Ford. The judgment was concurred in by Chief Justice Hon. Horace Harvey and Mr. Justice A. H. Clarke.

The court action arose out of an accident on Alberta Avenue near Winterburn in which Mildred C. Callihoo, daughter of the appellant, received fatal injuries. Mr. Callihoo sued for damages for the estate of his daughter, and personal damages.

REFORMATION DAY OBSERVED BY LUTHERANS

Sunday was observed as Reformation Day in a number of city churches in commemoration of the posting of Martin Luther's famous 995 thesis at Wittenberg on October 31, 1517. Rev. H. J. Preaching his first sermon in the pulpit of Bethlehem Lutheran church, Rev. V. L. Meyer, late of Nelson, B.C. declared his purpose to preach, during his ministry in Edmonton, the gospel of Christ and his desire to follow the example of St. Paul in discharge of his pastoral duties. Mr. Meyer will also serve as secretary of missions for the Alberta and British Columbia district of the Lutheran church, Missouri Synod.

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly

Fistic Crusade

Money Matters

Here and There

THE days of gallant crusades are not over. Yesterday the energetic Illinois State Athletic Commission put Tony Galento, Max Schmeling, Nate Bowie, Joe Jacobs and Harry Thomas on the suspended list so far as Illinois is concerned as a result of "fixed fight" charges made by Thomas to Archie Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, under oath.

You have to admire the fighting fire of the boys that Chairman Joseph Miller has on his commission. They're drawing their broadswords and attacking a racket that would be tough for even the federal government to crack with its best G-men.

If you've been around any length of time in fistiana, you'll have little doubt as to the veracity of Thomas' charges. He may never be able to prove them, since it is only his word against that of every one else concerned in the affair. Fights are never fixed on paper and rarely in the presence of witnesses. Furthermore, I don't imagine that Thomas is spilling the works out of a pure crusading spirit. He's been pinched badly somewhere, handed a few double-crosses and gypped out of some money. He's likely talking for revenge. But, just the same, everybody who knows his way around in the tin-ear industry knows that plenty of fighters are working under secret instructions.

Furthermore, the Illinois action is not likely to purify the fight game in the U.S. Actually it will work a greater hardship on that state than anywhere else, since it is barring a number of big names that Illinois promoters needs to draw paying houses. Just the same you have to give this commission a hand for tackling a situation that other state commissions, chiefly New York, have not dared to attack. If they can make it hot enough, other commission may take courage—or other state governments may be forced into appointing commissions with the required courage and freedom to act honestly.

Fans Partly To Blame

To some extent it is the fans who are to blame for this fixing business when you get down to basic reasons. Give them two beaten fighters who do their level best and nobody is present to see them . . . unless by a rare miracle you can find two honest punchers with big names. The sport public is a sucker for big names. If Joe Louis came here to slouch through a lazy exhibition, he could probably draw a capacity house at fancy prices, but put on unknowns who will fight their hearts out and the wise fans crowd up almost worth going around the block to see.

Therefore, in order to make a living promoters have to build up big names for fighters that have some sort of color and can do honest work to go as they are told. Actually it is only once in a decade or so that really great fighter comes along with everything needed to be a million-dollar attraction. However, the promoters can't wait that long for profits, so they attempt to build up drawing cards by making certain that nobody bumps off the guy they are booming.

Add to this situation the fact that three or four great fight combines are seeking to control the game in the U. S. and you see what Jack the gentlemen from Illinois have taken on. Each combine is seeking to build up its own group of title contenders in each division and is protecting them all the way. If an unknown puncher came along tomorrow who could blast the daylights out of Joe Louis, he would never get a chance at the champ until Mike Jacobs was satisfied that he could control the newcomer in the event he won.

Sniping Around Sportdom

APPARENTLY efforts toward a Dominion junior soccer tie-down are now killed deader than a doornail. Sam Davidson of the Dominion Football Association is concerned wipes out all hope of a Dominion series, since each province can now set its own age limit for juniors. Saskatchewan could make it 25 years and Alberta 15 years. On the face of it, this decision of the D.F.A. is the silliest it has yet made.

Alec Shellogg, the big ex-Notre Dame player with Regina Roughriders last year, is now with the Brooklyn Dodgers of the National Pro Football League. He was stopping the headlines until an ankle injury stopped him recently.

Vancouver is warming up for senior hockey again with a new three-team loop consisting of New Westminster, the Air Force and a Vancouver club.

There'll be only one Allan Cup contender this year from the Sudbury area. The mining companies apparently are entrenching on costs, and have put a stop to the old Nickel Belt custom of the C. A. H. A. senior clubs play a league schedule and then conducting three or four one team for an Allan cup bid.

American Power Plays Punch Home Winning Goals In Third

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31.—New York Americans came back strong in the sixth and final game of their pre-schedule exhibition series to defeat their National Hockey League rivals, New York Rangers, 3-1 ... game of 4,000 fans here last night.

Earl Robertson

The ... was tied, the second when the Rangers and Americans won the ... Regina Saturday. Americans counted ... the opening goal in the first ... and the second period was scoreless. Rangers tied the game in the third only to be overwhelmed by an American power play that netted two more goals.

Wilf Field scored a goal and an assist with Buzz Boll and Murray Armstrong netting American's other counters. Art Chapman and Johnny Sorrell each had an assist. Babe Pratt got Rangers' lone counter on a double pass from Phil Watson and Bryan Hextall.

LINEUPS:

Americans: Robertson; Conacher, Field; Romnes; Sorrell, Carr; Subs: Armstrong, Thomson, H. Smith, Egan, Chapman, Wiseman.

Rangers: Kerr; Pratt, Heller; Pike; Shibicky, M. Colville; Subs: Hiller, Watson, Hextall, MacDonald, L. Patrick, C. Smith, M. Patrick.

Don Deacon Sets Scoring Pace While Franks Is Turning In Fine Goal-Tending Job.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 31—Indianapolis Capitals of the American Hockey Association scored an 8-4 victory here last night in a charity exhibition game with their parent club, Detroit Red Wings of the National League.

Jimmy Franks

Don Deacon, demoted to Capitals by Manager Jack Adams of the Wings during the week-end, turned on his former teammates to score two goals in the last 45 seconds. No other player scored twice.

Indianapolis held a 4-0 lead going into the third period, when Gus Giesebrecht nabbed the first Red Wing goal.

Jimmy Franks who starred with the Wings' farm team last year, turned in a stellar goal-tending job. He held the Wings out for two periods and allowed only two goals in the last frame and the parent club turned on blistering power plays.

Detroit: Thompson, Goodfellow, Bowman; Brown; H. Kilrea, Dillon; Subs, Motter, Orlando, Giesebrecht, Abel, Howe, Liscombe, Grosso, Wares, Bruneteau.

Indianapolis: Franks; Bush, Siewart; Douglas; Wilder, Carveth; Subs, Lewis, Thompson, Keating, Deacon, Fisher, Jones, Hudson, K. Kilrea, Whitlaw, McDonald.

Officials—Fraser and McKinnon.

Burly Bruins Have Too Much Power; Shore Is Tribe Star

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—Held in check for two periods, Boston's Bruins then took just seven seconds to score the winning goal and within five minutes added two more to defeat Eddie Shore's Springfield Indians 3-0 last night in an exhibition hockey game.

Eddie Shore

Shore, appearing on Boston ice for the first time in an enemy uniform, was cheered as he sparked his Springfield team and took the smashing Bostons allies.

He was off the ice when the Nation al Hockey League champions counted two tallies in the first minute and a half of the third period and was battling desperately to a jam at the Springfield goal when Milt Schmidt poked in the third counter.

Roy Conacher's rifle-like shot put Bruins into the lead just after the third period face-off. He slammed the puck past Bennett Grant in seven seconds, after taking a pass from Bill Cowley. Mel Hill counteted at the 1:30 mark on another pass from Cowley.

Boston: Brimsek; Portland, Clapper; Cowley; Conacher, Hill; Subs—Sands, Crawford, Hollett, Dumart, Schmidt, Bauer, A. Jackson, Shewchuk.

Springfield: Grant; Shore, Beisler; Thurrier; Thibault, Jenkins. Subs—Frew, McGoldrick, Filmore, Kaminsky, Lamb, Wardrift, E. Jackson, Schultz, Doran, Corrigan.

Officials—Stewart and Cleary.

BERNIE MOROZ RETAINS LEAD ON EAST GRIDS

Red Storey Piles up Points But Sarnia Ace Holds Firm

TORONTO, Oct. 31. — Buster (Red) Storey skipped to the top of the Interprovincial Union's scoring standing with his galloping display of football against Ottawa Saturday. But the long-striding Argo half is still a few points short of catching the east's leader, Bernie Moroz, according to statistics compiled by The Canadian Press and released last night.

Storey scored two touchdowns and ran his point total to 20 as Argos beat Rough Riders. The big red-head also broke the grip Ottawa players have held on top positions since the season started.

Moroz, square-loed Sarnia half, booted the field goal that gave his team a tie with Montreal Westmounts and boosted his total to 27. His lead was chiselled somewhat by Tommy Burns, Westmounts veteran Burns got a touchdown and stands second to Moroz in the compilation with 21.

The fourth week of the campaign was marked by a tightening in scoring in all three leagues and there was a drop of 22 points in the totals for all teams as compared with the previous week. The comparative figures were 103 and 75.

In the Intercollegiate Clem Faust of University of Western Ontario's undefeated Mustangs broke a first place tie with his teammate, Harry Saluminski, by scoring two points for a total of 17. The improved showing of Queen's is reflected in Ding McGill's leap into third place from a four-way tie for fifth.

PIMLICO LIKELY MUDDERS RACE

BALTIMORE, Oct. 31.—It rained (remember the Preakness?) at Pimlico Monday and the rail-birds who watched Challedon, Cravat and Kayak II work out began talking about prospects of the "race of the year" developing into a battle in the mud.

The consensus seemed to be it wouldn't make any difference to the doughty trio entered in the Pimlico special if all the elements went on a binge Wednesday, the day of the $10,000 winner-take-all race over a mile and three-sixteenths.

Challedon, Cravat and Kyak II are big, tough horses, with courage and stamina enough to run a good race come rain, hail, heat wave or snow.

SCIENCE AIDS SOCCER

LUTON, Eng.—In earlier days of football, an operation for the removal of a cartilage meant a whole season out of action, but Tom Dunsmore, Luton Town, left-back, was out of the game only seven weeks for a cartilage removal.

Barney Stanley Heads Amateur Control Body

DECKS were cleared from an administration standpoint for another season when the Edmonton District Hockey Association held its annual organization meeting last night in the Civic Block with a full attendance of team representatives.

The resignations of officials who have given long and able service, President George Mackintosh and Secretary Bill Harris, were received by the meeting and regretfully accepted. George Mackintosh is retiring on account of the pressure of his work as president of the Alberta Hockey Association, while Bill Harris finds that he will be unable to devote the time required by the post of secretary.

Barney Stanley, who made a right respectable mark in hockey as a pro, was named president of the E.D.H.A., having filled the post of vice-president last year. Bill Ruff, one of the city's staunchest supporters of junior hockey, was unanimously elected vice-president.

Gordon Smeltzer was also unanimous choice for the big job of secretary-treasurer.

Four divisions of city amateur hockey will come under the jurisdiction of the E.D.H.A.—Intermediate, Junior, Juvenile and Midget. Each division will hold its own organization meeting in the near future and name a director who will represent it on the E.D.H.A. executive.

President Barney Stanley announced that no change of policy or general organization was anticipated. He declared, however, that promises had been obtained from the city to make a number of improvements to open rinks. Dressing rooms will be enlarged at the 118 avenue and 96 street rink and at the Stadium rink. Better lighting and player benches will also be installed at some of the other city rinks.

Representatives of the various divisions reported that enthusiasm was high and that there were hundreds of players seeking positions on various teams.

Buzz-Saw Hank Wins T.K.O. Over Bobby Pacho

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 31.—Welterweight champion Henry Armstrong punched out a technical knockout over Bobby Pacho of Cleveland in the fourth round of their 15-round title bout before 4,500 at Municipal Auditorium last night. Armstrong weighed 140, Pacho 146.

With Pacho reeling helplessly along the ropes under Armstrong's merciless attack, Referee Jack Bloom stepped between the fighters and stopped the bout after little more than a minute of the fourth round.

Pacho tried to make a fight of it in the final round. He shuffled out to the centre of the ring and traded blows with hammering Henry at close quarters.

The champion, fighting his fifth scrap in four weeks, quickly pounded Pacho into the ropes. Then Armstrong stood out and rained his fists on the Cleveland Filipino's face and bulging waistline faster than the eye could follow.

Pacho's arms dangled at his sides. His head bobbed from side to side. He apparently was unable to try to defend himself.

The Negro champion looked trim and sharp while Pacho did not appear to be in the best of condition.

Siebert Memorial Proceeds are $15,000

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—Proceeds of the Babe Siebert memorial game will total about $15,000 when all returns are in, it was announced Monday by the committee in charge.

A crowd of about 6,600 witnessed the match between Montreal Canadiens and the National Hockey League All-Star outfit, but many private donations enlarged the fund, the committee said.

Budge to Pound Piano As Winter Tour Folds Up

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—There will be no professional tennis tour this winter, although the war even chased William Tatum Tilden II home from Europe. Instead of pounding a ball John Donald Budge will beat a piano . . . learn the jazz and swing he loves preparatory to taking out an orchestra, long his ambition.

Don Budge may even team up with his old doubles partner, Gene Make, who also leans toward the trap drums. Budge will play only enough tennis this fall and winter to keep in shape.

Back from the other side with Big Bill Tilden, Ellsworth Vines and Lester Stoefen, Budge leaves for Oakland in a week or so to see his folks and relax a bit. The world's greatest tennis player plans to be back in New York about December 1 to remain until about June 1. He will start his piano lessons when he gets back.

The professionals hoped to enlist Gottfried von Cramm, but the German army grabbed that stylist instead. Von Cramm had planned to live in Switzerland following his trouble and imprisonment in Nazi-land, but Budge reveals that Germany called him back and "invited" him into the army.

Von Cramm and Hana Nuselein are on the western front.

Budge raves about Bill Tilden's game.

Tilden won matches from Budge, Vines and Stoefen . . . at 47.

AUSTRALIA'S FUTURE BRIGHT

Australia's Davis cup team members are not superstitious for they sailed for home on Friday, October 13, following participation in the Pacific Southwest and Pacific coast championships.

Adrian Quist points out that Australia has five young fellows at home corresponding to Welby Van Horn, Jack Kramer and Robert Peacock. They are Max Newcombe, Jim Gilchrist, Colin Long, Denis Pailles and Billy Sidwell.

"They are so good," says Quist, "that any one of them might have been picked this year."

Quist believes Newcombe will go farthest.

No one can tell, in view of war conditions, when Australia will be called on to defend the Davis cup, but Adrian Quist is confident his country will be in good shape when that time rolls around.

Tennessee Can't Even Be Scored On, Says Coach

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—Dr. John Bain Sutherland says he doesn't see how any team is going to beat Tennessee or even score on the Volunteers.

"There is nothing they don't do perfectly and I have never seen a team with such poise," asserts the former Pittsburgh coach who saw Maj. Bob Neyland's squad mow down Alabama, 21-0, in Knoxville.

Wichita Obtains Centre Jack Riley

WICHITA, Kas., Oct. 31.—Mrs. E. B. Wible, owner of Wichita Skyhawks of the American Hockey Association, reported acquisition Monday of Jack Riley, centre with Tulsa Oilers, in an "even trade" for Ollie Mulvihill, Hawk left wing. The trade was a three-club deal, she said, since Riley was owned by the Omaha club, new to the Association this year, and was on loan to Tulsa.

RANGER FARM SQUADS END EARLY DRILLS

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31.—Philadelphia Ramblers and New York Rovers, hockey clubs in the New York Ranger farm chain, broke training camp here Monday and headed for their respective cities to await league schedules.

Ramblers open the International-American loop at home against Cleveland Barons, November 4 and Rovers open the Eastern United States Amateur League against Atlantic City Seagulls in New York November 12.

Manager Herb Gardiner of Ramblers announced he would carry these 15 players this year: Bert Gardiner, goal; Alex Levinsky, Vic Myles, Lloyd Ailsby and Bill Alium, defence; Lloyd Roubell, Cliff Barton and Vince Germann, first string; Stan Smith, Bobby Kirk and Joe Krol, second string; Hugh Gustafson, Lude Wareing and John Polich, third string; and Bebe Tapin, utility.

Rovers will carry 14 players under Coach Alex Smith: Harry Braithwaite, goal; Johnny Godfrey, Bob Pentland, Bud Foley and Julian Sawbush, defence; Al Collins, Walter Rimstad and Murdo Mackay, first string; Mitchel Perchat, Frank Boucher and Bob Brownridge, second string; Les Lores, Frank Parker, and Howie Hollinger, third string.

Butch Keeling Swaps for Papike

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 31—Melville Keeling, playing manager of the Kansas City American hockey Association club, said last night the Greyhounds had traded Sammy Godin and Jack Smith for Joe Papike, Wichita right wing.

Godin plays right wing and defence. Smith, acquired from an Atlantic City, N.J., amateur club, is playing his first year as a professional.

ILLINOIS STARTS CLEANUP IN FIGHT "RACKET"

Brilliant Line of Kids Put Boss Adams on Spot

DETROIT, Oct. 31.—A brilliant kid line has Jack Adams in a tough spot with the home-town fans. If he doesn't add them to the Red Wings for the forthcoming National Hockey League campaign, he will get a barrage of criticism from the fans. If he does bring them up, he is afraid of the consequences.

The rookies packed with scoring dynamite are Joe Carveth, Archie Wilder and Les Douglas. They played together for the first time last year, with Pontiacs of the Michigan-Ontario Amateur Hockey League, and were selected as the three best forwards in the league.

Playing for Indianapolis Capitols Sunday night against the Wings they scored three of the team's four goals in a bitterly-fought game. Capitols are the Wings' farm team in the American Hockey Association.

Adams said they were the best line on the ice Sunday night, but he is afraid to jump them from the M.-O. League right up to the N.H.L. He thinks a year of seasoning in the minors will provide them with necessary polish and experience.

IDOLS OF FANS

The three are the idols of the thousands of fans who jam Detroit's Olympia ever Monday night for the M.-O. doubleheaders. The team Adams has lined up now seems to lack scoring punch. The kids might provide it, but Adams fears injuries would cripple the youngsters when they first play against the big and rough N.H.L. defencemen. That too would bring forth criticism.

Carveth is the only big one of three. He is five foot, 10 inches and weighs 178 pounds. He was born in Regina 21 years ago. Played with the Regina junior Aces during 1936-37 and since then has been in Detroit. He is a right-winger.

WESTERN BOY

Archie Wilder is a westerner too. He was born in Melville, Sask., where he played as a juvenile in 1934-35 with Syd Abel, now with the Wings. He jumped from the juvenile ranks to the seniors with the Weyburn Beavers when they won the league title in 1935-36. Then he dropped back to junior status with the Saskatoon Wesleys, again with Abel when they were western Canada junior finalists in 1936-37.

He is 22, is five foot, nine inches, but weighs only 155 pounds. Wilder is a left winger.

Les Douglas was born in Perth, Ont., and is five foot nine. He played with Perth Blue Wings from 1933-34 to 1937-38. Last season he was pivot man for the line.

Toronto Tennis Pair Given Ranking

TORONTO, Oct. 31.—Phil Pearson and Bill Pedlar, both of Toronto, were ranked eighth and ninth respectively in the men's section of the Ontario Tennis Association rankings announced here Monday.

Pearson and Pedlar, formerly of Vancouver, paired to form Canada's doubles team in Davis cup matches against Cuba this year.

Varsity Sport Spotlight—

No, sir, you can't keep a good sport down. Here's the snow hardly off the Varsity grid, and the pigskin totters are routing their equipment out of the moth balls and starting to talk rugby again.

Things are happening fast, too. The Golden Bears are dickering for a game with Carl Cronin's "West End" juniors fro Calgary. The Cronin kids are as yet unbeaten in the south city's junior circuit, and how they would come out with the Bears is a matter of conjecture. Anyway, the question of guaranices is being discussed and if all goes well the West End juniors will meet the Bears at the Varsity grid on Saturday afternoon.

Nor is that all. The Varsity "E" team is attempting to arrange a game with Wetaskiwin for this Wednesday afternoon. The Varsity "Bees" can field a tough and scrappy crew so its "watch out Wetaskiwin" if they do make the grade. Should Old King Winter stay off the air for a time there's no doubt but what the Interfac six-man football will re-commence, but they started late and it's very doubtful if the league will be played to any satisfactory conclusion.

Rugby President Jack Neilson is sprouting grey hairs. Seems that he's worried about the football set-up at Alberta. Trouble is constantly cropping up over the expenses of football and students sometimes threaten to stage a plebiscite and run the pep rally game clean off the campus. Curreni headache is some long haired intellectual who styles himself "Emendator" and writes letters in the varsity news organ. Mr. Emendator doesn't like football and polished out for almost a column all the things that might be done with the money. Highlight of the letter was when he said, "Ya don't need to keep a white elephant in yer back yard to show that you are kind to animals."

Students would be foolish to run out on football. Especially as Alberta will have a bang up squad next year and the Saskatchewan boys have brought back from the coast city—along with their drubbing from the U.B.C. Taunderbirds—a new tentatie football schedule for next fall. Plan Alberta's year to travel—and maybe Alberta's year to win. At least we can hope.

Senior and Interfaculty Hockey teams planned to start play during the evening but ice has not been melted with the ice. Interfac. men will have to wait till the ice is made in the Varsity rink. However, it is possible that the senior boys will move out to the Arena for a few pre-season workouts in the next week or so. They may not too, for Union Treasurer Shylock Percy McPowers is casting the evil eye over athletic budgets and wielding his red pencil with a will.

The Golden Bears basketball team is working out three times a week under the expert guidance of Jake Jamieson. Both Jake and Captain Stan Cameron hold high hopes for the current team. Younie, Dobson, Cameron, McElroy, and Pair of last year's squad are still present and correct. Also there comes a new sophomore find from Lethbridge by the name of Jack Dickson who, rumor has it, is a cinch.for a first string berth.

Would we be going too far out on the well known limb if we were to predict a western Canadian intervarsity championship for both the hockey team and the basketball outfit? Well, sir, limb or no limb—that's the prediction and leis hope it's good!

Age Limit Rule In Junior Soccer Is Suspended

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31.—Sam Davidson, secretary of the Dominion Football Association, Monday announced suspension of the D.F.A. regulation governing the age limit of junior soccer players throughout Canada.

"From now on each province can make its own rules for juniors," Davidson said. "If they don't want a junior age limit they don't have to have one."

The D.F.A. regulation restricted junior soccer to players under 21 years of age. The decision to suspend this ruling resulted from a mail-vote of the association's executive, the secretary said.

Davidson pointed out, however, that the lifting of the age limit for junior players did not effect the ruling which permits only senior soccer teams to enter the D.F.A. playdowns.

"Only senior teams are eligible for D.F.A. playdowns," he said.

KING'S TRAINER ENLISTS

Believe It Or Not— By Robt. Ripley

EXPLANATION OF TODAY'S CARTOON

AN APE SIGNALMAN: For many years a baboon worked as a signalman on the Uitenhage station on the Cape Colony Government Railway to Port Elizabeth. The official signalman had lost both legs and was crippled in one arm by a train running over him. To keep his job, he therefore trained an extraordinary sagacious and docile baboon to handle the signals for him. The ape would place his hind feet on the bottom of the lever, and then, seizing the handle with his forepaws, would cause the lever to move over by repeated jerks. There were six levers to operate, and the baboon had learned to recognize the whistle of the approaching train, infallibly knowing which lever to pull over.

Winnipeg Mittman Starts Drive For Ambers' Title

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Hard and ring wise after three years under a master's eye, Bill Marquart, Winnipeg lightweight, will take his dynamite punch into the Madison Square Garden ring here Wednesday in the first fight of an eastern campaign aimed at Lou Ambers' lightweight boxing crown.

The Winnipegger, four times Canadian amateur featherweight champion and a member of the dominion's team at the 1936 Olympic Games, will tackle Billy Beauhold of Jersey City in the semi-final to the Tony Canzoneri-Al Davis fight. Beauhold is recognized as one of the top flight lightweights in the east.

Marquart Monday worked out under supervision of Manager Jack Hurley, who developed Billy Petrolle, one of the few fighters who defeated Babyface Jimmy McLarnin of Vancouver.

"If Marquart likes Beauhold we'll stay east and go after Ambers' title," Hurley said.

The record shows Marquart has won 32 out of 36 professional fights, 18 of them by the knockout route. The Canadian has never been en the canvas.

BILLY MARQUART

BIG CONACHER EXPECTED TO SPARK AMERKS

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31.—The big "it" in New York America's lineup this year seems to be wrapped up in the performance of Charlie Conacher in his new position at defence.

Manager Red Dutton has moved his new acquisition back to the blueline and after Saturday's exhibition game against the New York Rangers the Amerk manager predicted Conacher would provide the spark to ignite his new band of veterans this year. The big bomber scored one goal and generally marshalled the club to a 2-0 victory.

The star-spangled performance ended after another National Hockey League campaign with nine holdovers and an equal number of new faces—the result of an off-season of furious trading by the fiery Dutton.

HARDEST SHOT

Conacher entered hockey's hall of fame when he was part of Toronto Maple Leafs famous kid line with Harvey Busher Jackson and Joe Primeau. Conceded the hardest shot in the league, Conacher won the scoring championship and was picked on the all-star club in 1933-34, 1934-35, and made the all-star again in 1937-38. He announced his retirement two years ago but turned up last year with Detroit Red Wings.

Jackson came to Americans with Buzz Boll and Doc Romnes from Toronto and has been showing great form in training. Dutton said development of Conacher into a defenceman had ruined his original plan of recruiting two-thirds of the kid line but there was no doubt Jackson was on the comeback trail. He will make up the first string with two hold-overs, Art Chapman and Eddie Wiseman.

Murray Armstrong, who played with the Toronto farm club, Syracuse Stars of the International-American circuit, last season, will centre the second string flanked by Buzz Boll and Lorne Carr. Boll was a standout with Toronto for years and Carr is a repeater from last year.

STURDY VETERAN

Dutton's third string will have an N.H.L. veteran of many years experience at centre. Doc Romnes played with Chicago Black Hawks when they won the Stanley cup two seasons ago and transferred to Toronto last year. Tommy Anderson is secure in the left-wing position and Jack Thomson of Regina will likely fill the other spot. Hooley Smith and Johnny Sorrell, both with Amerks last year, will be carried for reserve duty.

The veteran Al Murray will team with Chamberlain on the defence combination. Wilf Field, American rookie last year and Chuck Shannon, husky redhead from Syracuse Stars, round out Dutton's "rough and rock 'em" defence. Earl Robertson will return for goal duty.

Don McDiarmid Named Ontario's Top Tennis Star

TORONTO Oct. 31.—The Ontario Tennis Association announced Monday that Don McDiarmid of Ottawa had been named No. 1 Ontario player for 1939. Mrs. Frank Fisher of Toronto formerly of Calgary, was judged the province's best in the women's section.

McDiarmid was rated ahead of Bruce Hall of University of Toronto who represented Canada in Davis cup play in Cuba last summer, through winning the eastern Canada, Nova Scotia and St. Lawrence Valley championships. Bill Pigott of Hamilton, another University of Toronto star, was ranked third.

Mrs. Fisher earned the top rating by winning the eastern Canada, Ontario and Toronto and district crowns, Jean Adele Burritt, unranked last year because of a European tour, was placed second and Mrs. W. R. Walton Jr., Toronto, all-England champion, third.

Tense Moments As Apps Gets Cut But All Is Well

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Oct. 31—Great sighs of relief arose in Toronto Maple Leafs' camp Monday when it was revealed their National Hockey League all-star centre, Syl Apps, had suffered only minor cuts about the hips in a fall in practice on one of Nornie Mann's skates.

Apps fell over Mann and landed squarely on the back of the skate, just after arriving here from Montreal where he starred in the Richert memorial game Sunday night.

Ontario Athlete Expected to Take Up U.S. Residence

YPILANTI, Mich., Oct. 31 — Phyllis Lafoy of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., one of Canada's outstanding young track and field stars, is attending Michigan Normal's college of physical education here, and is giving considerable thought to the idea of becoming a citizen of the United States.

Miss Lafoy, a native of Gray, Sask., feels that she would have a good chance of making the Canadian Olympic team in 1940—but the way has upset all her ideas along this line.

The 18-year-old athelete says that because there is little chance of her attending the Olympic games as a Canadian because of the conflict and as she would need U.S. citizenship papers to teach in this country, she may become a citizen here.

Midgets Called For Practice

The Canadian Midgets under the coaching of Smythe Fleming, and the Crusader Midgets under the coaching of Tom Madson will hold a practice at the Arena on Wednesday from 7.00 to 8.00 p.m. All boys wanting to try for a place on these teams are welcome to show their stuff.

Commission Bans Five Prominent Men

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—The Illinois State Athletic Commission last night barred Harry Thomas, Tony Galento, Max Schmeling, Nate Lewis and Joe Jacobs from Illinois rings pending a complete hearing of "fixed-fight" charges made by Thomas.

The ruling was made after the commissioners had discussed allegations of Thomas, a former heavyweight fighter, that results of his bouts with Schmeling and Galento "had been decided weeks before the fighters entered the ring."

The members met after Governor Henry Horner had ordered an inquiry into Thomas' story of his alleged "dives." They pointed out that neither the three fighters nor their managers held licenses in Illinois or had applied for any. Their formal statement added:

COMPLETE HEARING

"After consultation with Attorney General John E. Cassidy, the commission was informed that it had no jurisdiction to conduct an investigation at this time. However, it is the unanimous opinion of this commission and Governor Horner that none of the accused parties will be allowed to engage in any boxing enterprise in the state until there has been a complete hearing of the charges made by Mr. Thomas."

Such a hearing can be held only after one or more of the boxers or their managers seek licenses from the commission. The commissioners then asserted that if and when such an application is made, "there will be no license granted to any of the accused until every vestige of suspicion is wiped away."

The statement was signed by Chairman Joseph Triner and his colleagues, Shildon Clark and James Fitzpatrick.

Governor Horner, at Springfield, said he would invite Archy Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, which published the charges made by Thomas, to discuss the case with him.

WON IN EIGHTH

The Schmeling-Thomas fight was held December 13, 1937, in New York's Madison Square Garden. Schmeling won a technical knockout in the eighth round.

The Galento-Thomas bout was in Philadelphia November 14, 1938. Galento won on a technical knockout in three rounds.

The Tribune said Thomas made these allegations in affidavits and statements given to the newspaper.

1. Both contests were designed to build up reputations for challengers seeking bouts with champion Joe Louis.

2. Thomas received approximately $8,500—the first Tony Canzoneri of his ring career—for boxing Schmeling and was promised $6,000 for meeting Galento but actually earned $600 or $800 less than that amount.

3. Arrangements for the "faked" fights were made by Thomas' manager, Nate Lewis of Chicago, and Joe Jacobs of New York, manager of both Schmeling and Galento.

Both Jacobs and Lewis denied Thomas' charges.

Kentucky Derby Monies Boosted

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 31.—Matt S. Winn, president of the American Turf Association, announced Monday the Kentucky Derby, to be run Saturday, May 4, 1940, will be for $75,000 added instead of $50,000 added as first announced.

The national turf classic first run in 1875 was for $2,850 added and was increased gradually until 1923 when it went to $50,000.

CO-OP COUNCIL PLANS PROTEST FREIGHT RATES

CALGARY, Oct. 31—The Alberta Co-operative Council will protest to the Canadian Freight Association about increased freight charges due to United States funds being at a premium over Canadian money, it was announced here Monday.

The council discussed increased freight charges on the export of cattle to the United States at a week-end meeting and decided difference in money rates had an adverse effect on the export trade.

The council also will protest regulations specifying that shippers can secure only the grain cars orders ordered for moving livestock, grain, etc., because it is felt such regulations tend to slow up movement of agricultural products.

Diversion privileges for livestock shipments under the feeding transit rate also will be urged. Present regulations allow the special rate on feeder shipments but makes no provisions for diverting of a car to be filled at other than the point of origin, it was stated.

STEVE SOROTA GAINS PRESTIGE IN COACHING

ANDOVER, Mass., Oct. 31.—Steve Sorota, former Fordham fullback who learned about football from James Crowley, hasn't lost much time in gaining recognition as a [illegible] preparatory school coach. After [illegible] Andover unbeaten and untied in [illegible] Sorota signed on as head coach last spring.

And at this writing Andover, with three games behind it, still remains in the charmed circle of the unbeaten and untied.

Undoubtedly there are many Andover alumni who regretted the moving of Shepard from the football ranks to the more dignified position of director of athletics. Shep might easily have become a college coach had his ambitions turned in that direction. Throughout his long career at the Andover gridiron controls he won nothing but admiration and countless gasps.

Whether Andover won or lost, one would always remember each particular season. Last year, for instance, because of its unity and team play.

In its first three games under Sorota this season — with Nichols Junior College, Yale '43 and Northeastern '43, Andover tallied 48 points against 9 for the combined opposition.

In comparison with other prep school teams, Andover is top of even the list in weight. Save Jack Bolis Fisher, a 193-pound tackle, no member of the squad weighs more than 190.

But apparently this disadvantage merely exists on paper.

LEWIS STATES C.I.O. AGAINST 'SECRET' MOVE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—John L. Lewis, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, last night announced opposition to a western "progressive conference" which he said two government officials were organizing for the "secret" purpose of launching a third-term boom for President Roosevelt.

In a letter to Governor Culbert Olson of California, he made known that Labor's Non-Partisan League, which he heads, had instructed its units to have nothing to do with the conference.

He said activities of the two government officials in trying to organize the meet were "questionable" under the Hatch Act, designed to curb political activity by government employees. He named the officials as Norman N. Littell, assistant to Attorney-General Murphy, and Marshall E. Dimock, second assistant secretary of labor.

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, Conrad Ruhl, who died October 31, 1935.
Gone, dear father; gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.

A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Sadly missed by your Wife, Rudolph and Margaret.
